United Nations Officials See U.N. As Battleground

Believe U.N. Will Be Center
Of Battle Between Russia
And Pact Members

U.N. ATMOSPHERE RATHER UNEASY

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., March 19.—United Nations officials and delegates are convinced today that the world body is destined to become the main battleground between Russia and signatories of the Atlantic pact.

The week-end exodus and the heavy snowfall brought a convenient pause in activities at Lake Success, where the hope is that by Monday the implications of the Atlantic Pact will have come into clearer perspective.

Publication of the treaty's provision caused no visible excitement in U.N. headquarters, where members of the Soviet bloc attending the Economic and Social Council meetings remained silent.

Uneasy Atmosphere

But an uneasy atmosphere continued to prevail, despite Secretary General Lie's reluctant acceptance of the regional pact in the absence of military backing for U.N. by the big powers. Although there are no signs that the Soviet bloc is preparing to walk out of the world body, rumors to that effect continue to circulate.

One contributing factor to these rumors is the long absence in Moscow of assistant Secretary General Arkady Sobolev, who is in charge of Security Council affairs. Lie said yesterday that he has twice communicated with the Russian and received requests from him for permission to extend his leave. Lie stated that Sobolev proceeded to Moscow some weeks ago on the claim that his son is gravely ill.

Point To Changes

At the United Nations, a number of Western delegates and others pointed to the fact that Andrei Vishinsky and Andrei Gromyko have been promoted to top ranking positions in Moscow. Both have concerned themselves in the past three years largely with the U.N. affairs of Russia, in both the Assembly and Security Council.

On that basis, there is much speculation as to whether Sobolev's continued absence in Moscow may be linked to the Vishinsky-Gromyko promotions.

It is thought here that Sobolev, chief Russian advisor to Marshall Sokolovskiy in Berlin until 1946, may have been called on to contribute his opinion and advice to the Soviet government on the strategic situation.

Poland Makes Demand U.S. Recall Embassy Official

WARSAW, March 19.—(INS)—The Polish government demanded today that the State Department recall an official of the U. S. embassy in Warsaw who described Poland as a "Soviet satellite."

The official is Chester H. Opal of Chicago, press attache and acting public affairs officer, in charge of the U. S. information service in Warsaw. He issues a news bulletin which is one of the few sources of unbiased reporting in Warsaw, and runs a library, information rooms, and shows American films.

Italian Film Actress Marries G. I.

COLUMBUS, O.—Klieg lights and grease paint have been given up by Giola Reynolds, pretty Italian film actress, who has traded them for a new role as housewife for an American G. I. Sgt. Robert Reynolds, her husband, who worked as an Army man by day and a short order cook by night to raise the $500 bond needed to bring his sweetheart from Italy. They are honeymooning at Chillicothe, O. Reynolds home town.

European Statesmen Anxiously Awaiting Reaction To Alliance

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(European General Manager U. N. S.)

PARIS, March 19.—Europe's democratic statesmen hailed the historic Atlantic pact today as a solemn notice to Russia that new aggression will bring down on communism the armed wrath of the western world.

All expressed the hope that the new balance of power created by the alliance may serve to maintain world peace for generations to come.

But Soviet reaction to the pact was anxiously awaited. While Moscow radio launched into an immediate denunciation of the treaty as a "war-mongering" attack on Russia, there was yet no clear indication of what counter-action the Kremlin will take.

Some sources feared an overt crisis-creating move such as an attack on the Baltic states.

Truman Ends His Vacation

Leaves Key West Shortly

To White House

STILL HOPEFUL FOR HIS PROGRAM

By ROBERT G. NIXON
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

W. S. SUB BASE, Key West, Fla., March 19.—President Truman returns to Washington today in a mood to reason with, rather than to do battle with a recalcitrant Congress.

The Chief Executive ended his two-week vacation in south Florida as he boarded his special plane, the Independence, at the Boca Chica Naval Air Station shortly before noon.

He is due back in Washington around 3 p.m. (EST).

To Attend Dinner

Tonight he will attend the annual dinner of the White House Photographers' association—the only thing that has drawn him back to the White House at this time when he would have preferred to spend another week in Key West.

The Chief Executive is rested and tanned after his brief vacation. It has taken him away from the tremendous pressures that engulf him in Washington—however brief it has been.

The President made it amply clear yesterday when he met White House correspondents that he will pursue a course of reason with the Congress.

He admitted that emotions have risen in the fight that developed in preliminary skirmishing over the Civil Rights program—a fight (Continued on Page Two)

SPRING ARRIVES

SUNDAY 5:49 P. M.
PITTSBURGH, March 19.—(INS)—You can take the word of an astronomer today that winter officially will leave tomorrow at 5:49 p.m. (EST). Arthur L. Draper, director of the Buhl Planetarium in Pittsburgh, said that is the first moment of spring and of the Equinox when day and night are nearly the same length throughout the world. The sun will rise exactly in the east and set due west.

DIPLOMATS HAD 54 MEETINGS TO PREPARE PACT

WASHINGTON, March 19.—(INS)—The Atlantic pact is proof positive that diplomats consider their words more precious than pearls.

The 1,040-word agreement was produced at the rate of about seven words per working hour.

Envoy of the signatory powers held 18 meetings while three working groups met 54 times with the average meeting about two hours.

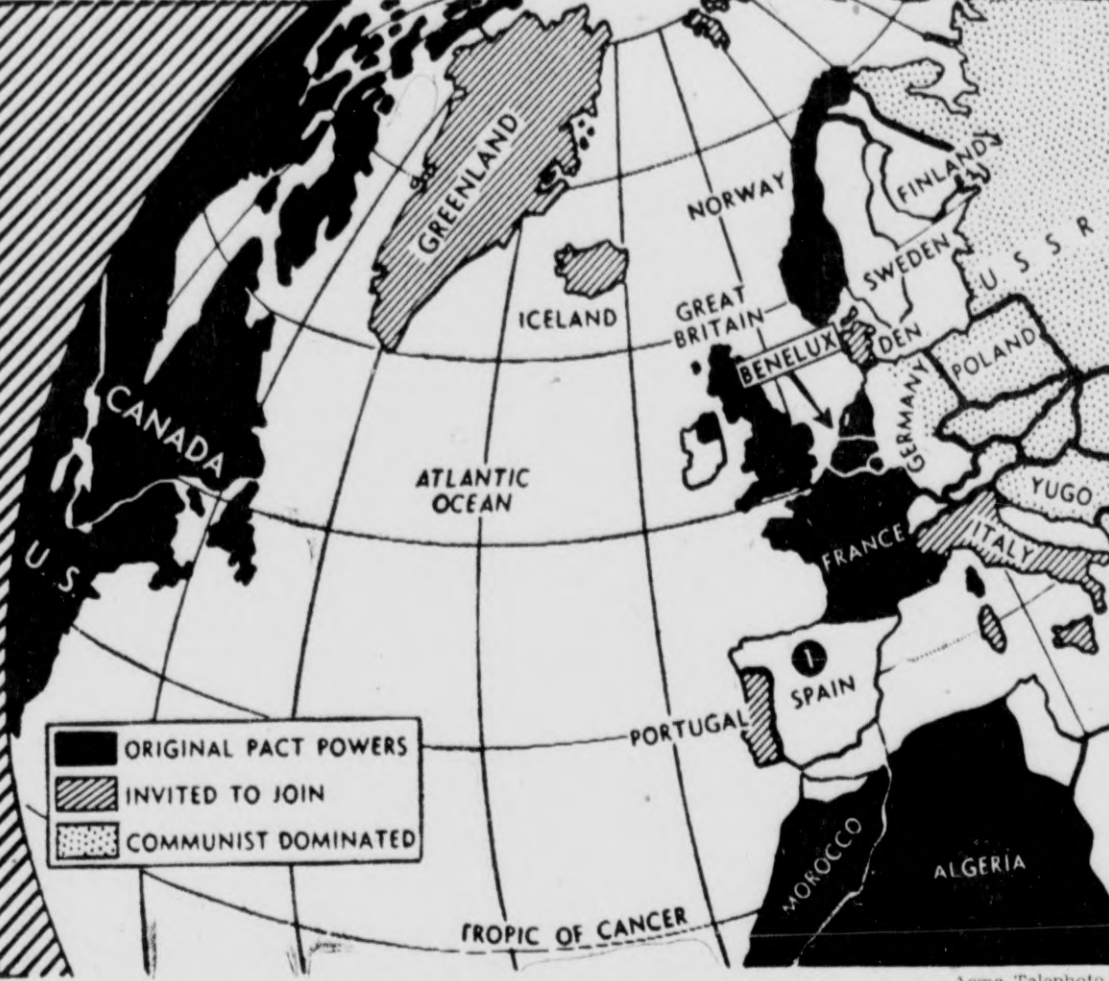

Preparing To Take Tests For Aviation Cadets Today

Filling out applications to take the Aviation Cadet Test are: Harold Farris of 906 West Clayton street; Mahoningtown and Frank Hannon, of 109 Phillips Place (both Thomas L. Cameron, Aviation Project officer of western Pennsylvania, who is giving the test.

In the group taking the examination were seven men from New Castle and vicinity: Stanley Galinski, Frank B. Hannon, James Abraham and Harold V. Farris from New Castle and Lawrence Cravin and Neil Guy of Wampum.

Shows Nations In Proposed Atlantic Pact

Map spots nations which will sign North Atlantic Pact and those who were invited to join. Portugal has protested against exclusion of Spain (1) on the grounds that it weakens the pact and Portugal's own position. Provisions provide for a "security zone" from the Tropic of Cancer north to nearly the North Pole, including all of North America and extending eastward right up to the Iron Curtain.

Some Press Comment On Atlantic Pact

(By International News Service)

Newspaper comment on the North Atlantic pact ranged today from the New York Times' laudatory description of the treaty as "statesmanship at its best" to the New York Daily News' editorial wryly titled "Uncle Sam Makes It Official."

The Times said: "The pact itself menaces no nation that does not threaten others. Its ultimate purpose is not to prepare for war but to save the peace by restoring a balance of power which will discourage aggression and make the resort to the right of self-defense unnecessary."

"As Mr. Acheson points out, the experience of two world wars... has taught us that unless the democracies stand together in defense of their heritage they are doomed to fall one by one."

The New York Herald Tribune, taking a similar view, stated: "The North Atlantic treaty is essentially and inescapably a defensive strictly limited in scope and potential application. It is a pact for peace."

The Daily News, voicing disapproval of the alliance, commented editorially: "This treaty will make it easier than ever for a war-minded president to fling us to the brink of war and thereby force congress to come up with the formal declaration."

The New York Daily Mirror, equally critical, asserted editorially: "The essence of the North Atlantic pact is the automatic nature of American participation in war. There can be no check; no control; no thinking anything over."

"We can go to war now at a sneeze. Maybe there is no other way. But here the constitution is amended by a treaty."

The Washington Post declared: "Publication of the text of the North Atlantic treaty confirms our feeling that the pact is more a defensive alliance of the old-fashioned type than a regional agreement conforming to the letter and spirit of the United Nations charter."

"The military accent of the present agreement could be softened and a new tack embarked upon... if the United States were to take the lead in the promotion of a real partnership with western Europe."

The Philadelphia Inquirer—"We must also realize that signing and ratifying a treaty of unity can only be a first step—that the military strength of 250,000,000 people must then be swiftly marshalled and organized to make that unity effective, performing that task with least possible threat to our stability and economic restoration abroad."

The San Francisco Chronicle said: "This is a tough, hard-headed treaty, but it is a declaration, not of war, but of profound determination on the part of free nations to maintain a peace based upon freedom. The door is barred against the Soviet Union and her satellites—but not permanently."

"So it is a tough treaty, but it comes at a time of history when weakness, vacillation and humility in the face of brute force are demonstrably unproductive of peace."

Way To Goal

NEXT REPORT ON FRIDAY, MARCH 26

American Red Cross fund campaign workers reported sixty five per cent of their quota as a result of three weeks campaigning at a report meeting Friday afternoon. A total of $18,167.15 has been reported to date. The goal is $27,560.

Friday's report represents a gain of $4,000 over the previous week's figures.

Public school employees were added to the select circle of divisions that have reached their quota. Headed by Dr. Frank L. Burton, the school employees have turned in $242 in excess of their $400 goal. Professional and special gifts divisions had reached their quotas last week.

Must Have Tough Policy In Dealing With Soviet Russia

BOSTON, March 19.—(INS)—The national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars believes the United States must have "a strict, tough policy in dealing with Russia."

Commander Lyall T. Beggs, an attorney of Madison, Wis., went all out for a program of universal military training.

Beggs, in Boston for the annual visit of the national commander of the VFW, said: "With the present threat of communism, it is not as hard today to convince our people of the need for adequate national defense as it was after World War I. We are not as close to war today as we were a year ago, but we must have a strict, tough policy in dealing with Russia."

Will Seek To Speed Senate Pact Approval

North Atlantic Alliance
Must Get Senate Approval
After Formal Signing

DEFENSE AID TO COST TWO BILLION

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 19.—The United States rushed plans today to turn the proposed North Atlantic Alliance into a forceful weapon for ending the cold war.

The immediate problem is that of obtaining speedy senate ratification after the mutual defense pact is signed in Washington early in April.

Approval of the new agreement presumably would place the United States in position, in event of attack, to invoke simultaneously the Rio and the North Atlantic pacts.

A State Department spokesman pointed out that 21 American republics would be lined up for mutual assistance.

Department spokesman Michael J. McDermott emphasized, however, that under the Rio treaty the Latin American nations would be obligated to assist the United States only in meeting an attack within the western hemisphere security zone.

Pressing Task

With respect to the Atlantic treaty, another pressing task is the drafting of a mutual aid bill under which the United States will help build European land, sea and air units to full efficiency. It will be included in an omnibus military aid program likely to cost the United States nearly two billion dollars in the next year.

It will bring up to date the military equipment of the Atlantic pact nations and provide military assistance for Iran, Greece, Turkey and Latin America.

While this project is being rushed, administration leaders are watching for any sign of a Russian (Continued on Page Twelve)

Acheson Is Commended By Truman

By ROBERT G. NIXON
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

U. S. SUB BASE, Key West, Fla., March 19.—President Truman, in a congratulatory message to Secretary of State Dean Acheson, said today the North Atlantic Pact will strengthen the United Nations.

Mr. Truman and his staff heard Acheson's nationwide radio broadcast last night, explaining the importance of the treaty which ties the United States and Western European nations in a joint defense pact. The Truman message said: "Have just listened with great satisfaction to your clear and forceful speech. You have given the country an admirable exposition of the principles and objective of the Atlantic Pact."

"Thoughtful citizens will now understand that the proposed (Continued on Page Seventeen)

Jurors Warned In New York Trial

NEW YORK, March 19.—(INS)—The jury at the communist conspiracy trial was under orders today to closely follow the evidence and to maintain a strict silence of the case.

Federal Judge Harold R. Medina issued the orders in his instructions to the 12 talesmen preparing to listen to opening arguments in the trial of 11 top communists.

The much-delayed trial will get underway Monday when U. S. Attorney John F. X. McGohey makes his opening statement to the jury.

Counsel for the defendants, who are accused of conspiring to teach and advocate the violent overthrow of the U. S. government, will be allowed to outline their case Monday and all day Tuesday.

The first witness is scheduled to be called next Wednesday.

The actual trial is scheduled to begin 10 weeks after court convened. The first seven weeks were consumed by defense efforts to prove that the New York federal jury system was unconstitutional and illegal because it discriminated against minorities and the poor.

Altoona Church Damaged By Fire

ALTOONA, Pa., March 19.—(INS)—Damages were estimated at near $20,000 today from a fire which damaged the interior and roof of the Salem Evangelical and Reformed church in Altoona.

Five fire companies battled the blaze for two hours in freezing weather today before bringing it under control. Congregation members had begun painting and decorating the interior this week.

You probably know, or did you, Sunday will welcome the spring, and the buds will bloom (or will they) and the chickadees loudly sing. And the grass will grow (or I hope so), and the onions will rise and shine, that is I mean if the weather man decides that the spring's on time. But as of today it's winter, and the snow billows full and free, but the spring is due in on Sunday and the weather is thirty-three.

BROWN-SHAFFER
MARRIAGE TOLD

Miss Jean Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Brown of Sauquoit, N. Y., became the bride of George Shaffer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Shaffer of West Washington street extension, this city, at an open church wedding in the Sauquoit Presbyterian church at 7:30, March 5.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a gown of white satin and lace fashioned with a hoop skirt and a long train. Her veil of illusion fell from a halo of crystal beads and she carried a bouquet of Better Time roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. Ralph Davidson, aunt of the bride, as matron of honor, wore an aqua gown with a matching headpiece and she carried a bouquet of pink roses and blue iris. Miss Patricia Canfield, as bridesmaid, wore a pink gown with matching headpiece and carried pink roses and blue iris.

Herbert Shaffer served his brother as best man and the ushers were Clarence Brown and Richard Brown.

Following the ceremony there was a reception in the home of the bride's parents, after which the newlyweds left on a wedding trip to New York City and through Pennsylvania. They are now residing in their newly furnished apartment at 312 Highland avenue, this city.

Mrs. Shaffer attended the Mount Dewey school, is a graduate of Sauquoit High school and is now employed by the Bell Telephone Co. in New Castle.

Mr. Shaffer is employed by the Westinghouse Electric Co. Sharon.

BETTE CALLAHAN
ENGAGEMENT TOLD

Mrs. Margaret Callahan, of 103 East Garfield avenue, announces the engagement of her daughter, Bette, to Thomas Acker, son of Henry Acker, R. D. 2, Enon Valley.

The announcement was made when members of the faculty of the Jameson Memorial Hospital School of Nursing gathered in the Callahan home recently.

Callahan is assistant director at the Jameson Memorial Hospital School of Nursing and Mr. Acker is an engineer at the Johnson Bronze Co.

There has been no date set for the wedding.

TRINITY JUNIOR
GUILD IS HOSTESS

Following the Lenten service in Trinity Episcopal church, March 16, members of Trinity Junior guild were hostesses for the fellowship hour.

Tasty refreshments were served by the social committee with Mrs. Frank Bailey, chairman, being assisted by Miss Margaret McCracken, Mrs. Doyle Birney and Mrs. George Crawford.

The guild will assemble Wednesday evening, April 20, at 8 o'clock.

Nora Landis Circle
Nora Landis Missionary Circle of First Baptist church, met Friday evening, March 18, at 8 o'clock. Mrs. O. W. Hurst illustrated the talk by giving a monologue on visiting an ill person. N.U.F. CLUB HAS
ST. PATRICK PARTY

Members of the N. U. F. club spent an unusual and very entertaining evening when they gathered in the home of Mrs. Twyla Sandman of 528 Bell avenue for a St. Patrick party Thursday evening.

Each member was dressed as a correct "Colleen" in green. Mrs. Rose Mary Suber was awarded the prize for wearing the most attractive attire. The prize was presented along with a bit of Irish humor.

Group singing of Irish melodies was enjoyed. Mrs. Mary McCreary sang a beautiful solo. The evening was also spent playing games with prizes going to Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Betka, Mrs. Barbara Lynch and Mrs. Jewell Shoen.

The St. Patrick color scheme was evident throughout the house, complete with many shamrocks. A delicious lunch was served at a table arranged in a novel manner, appointed in green and white with green tapers and a large bouquet made of green onions, celery and parsley as a centerpiece. The hostess was assisted in serving by Mrs. Rose Mary Suber and Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Betka.

Mrs. Barbara Lynch then presided at the brief business session at which time two new members, Miss Cecilia Flynn and Mrs. Mary McCreary were welcomed into the club.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Betka of 201 Miller way, March 31, at 7:30.

RAINBOW BOARD
ENJOYS MEETING

Members of the Advisory Board of the Order of Rainbow For Girls met Friday evening at the M. Dale Andrews Lumber Co. in Mt. Jackson.

The group enjoyed two interesting films, dealing with the problems of everyday living and also a program of magic presented by Larry Firster and Ralph Andrews.

Mrs. Evelyn McKibben, board president, presided at a brief business session, at which time plans were completed for the reception to be given for Miss Ann Sartwell, Grand Worthy Advisor of the State of Pennsylvania. This reception will be given in her honor, April 6.

Dainty refreshments were served by the company personnel. Miss Janet Potter received the door prize.

G. N. Club Meets

Mrs. Josephine Cople entertained the G. N. club Thursday evening in a downtown tearoom.

Final plans were made for the anniversary party for this Sunday evening in the Donati auditorium at 6 o'clock. A theatre party was enjoyed later.

March 31 is the meeting with Mrs. Clotilda Ross of Lutton street.

Parent-Teachers

Hickory Unit

Hickory Township P.T.A. met in the East Brook school, Wednesday evening for the regular meeting. Following business, a program was given by the students of the school. The program consisted of the members who are participating in the County Music and Forensic league at New Wilmington, today.

Solos, trios, quartets, ensemble and chorus, made up the evening's entertainment with Mrs. Robert McCrumb in charge.

Mr. Wilson of the Boy Scout office presented the local Boy Scout troop with its charter.

Lawrence County Council
Lawrence County Council will meet in the Y.W.C.A., Monday evening, March 21 at 7:45 o'clock with the Glenmore and Pulaski schools presenting the program.

New Bedford
New Bedford P.T.A. met in the school, Thursday for the regular meeting. The golden jubilee project was discussed with action to be taken on the project at the April meeting. The mixed chorus from the upper grades entertained with Irish songs. The new projector was demonstrated by Clare Brown. Reels were shown from the film library the school is purchasing.

Officers will be elected at the next meeting.

Four Men Killed In Auto Accident Near Pottsville

Machine Fails To Make Curve, Rolls Over Embankment Into
Schuylkill River

POTTSVILLE, Pa., March 19.—(INS)—The bodies of four men were discovered today in a partially submerged automobile in the Schuylkill river five miles east of Pottsville.

State police said one man apparently was killed outright and the three others died by drowning after the automobile failed to make a curve and rolled down an embankment into the river.

They were identified late this morning as John Motley, 23, and Frederick Winn, 20, both of Pottsville; John Zlatos, Jr., 21 Shoen-town, and Edward Noalis, 18, of Cumhola.

State police investigators said the accident evidently occurred early this morning as the automobile was traveling on route 209 toward Tamaqua.

THREE HUNDRED TEACHERS MEET

1949 there will be 653 young men and women graduated, eligible to teach. We need 3000 elementary replacements to properly man the schools.

"Most of these 653 will not teach in Pennsylvania for adjoining states pay salaries more in line with the responsibilities of the profession."

"There is before the General Assembly at the present time legislation which we think will help to correct the situation. But this legislation is not designed to benefit the teachers now in service, particularly. It is designed to attract to the teaching profession the type of young men and women needed if the school system is to survive. It calls for better salaries and improved retirement provisions."

"The legislation calls for a minimum starting salary of $2400-$2600 and goes to a maximum of $4000. It also provides larger state subsidies for the local school districts. We believe the money should come from the state rather than the local districts for the state has the power to tax sources unavailable to the local communities."

Rep. D. Raymond Sollenberger, a representative in the General Assembly from Blair County spoke first. He told of the difficulties encountered in the passage of legislation. Said he "certainly teachers are entitled to better pay, but there is a satisfaction in the teaching profession far beyond mere dollars."

Mr. Sollenberger is chairman of the Committee on Education in the House.

Two other speakers were heard, Miss Mabel Simmons of Greenville, a legislative representative of the teachers and State Senator Samuel G. Neff of this district.

Miss Simmons told of the work the representatives were doing in the state capital.

Senator Neff said he favored proper compensation for teachers but urged that they organize themselves more strongly. "You can get better results when you are organized strongly," said he.

Senator Neff said that he was in his first session of the General Assembly and hence not as familiar with teacher problems as he hopes to be later. He said he would support any legislation designed to improve the lot of the teachers.

Toastmaster, Dr. McCormick

The toastmaster of the evening was Dr. George A. McCormick, president of the mid-western district PSEA. He is superintendent of the Beaver schools. He asked Rev. Robert Mayo of First U. P. to pronounce the blessing before the dinner. William Blough of Sharon had charge of the group singing with Mrs. Blough at the piano.

Many guests were introduced, including members of the House and Senate. The crowd included teachers and principals from all of the five counties in the mid-western section save Clarion. A teachers' dinner in Clarion county prevented representative from that district from attending.

in which the administration took a solid licking.

Hopeful For Program
But the President is still hopeful that his program will go through.

He refused to admit that the other setbacks—his nomination of Mon Wallgren, the rent control upset, the 70 group airforce battle—have been major defeats.

The President's view is that it is a new Congress, that it has not had time to take definitive actions, and that time will tell.

The Chief Executive's attitude was distinctly one of patience and amelioration.

Deaths Of The Day

George W. Kite

George W. Kite, aged 75 years, of 753 Lathrop street, died at his home, this morning at 10:30 o'clock, following a long illness.

Mr. Kite was born in Wheeling, West Virginia, August 9, 1873, son of John W. and Martha Platt Kite. He lived here since 1898 and worked for 48 years with the Shenango Tin Mill company, retiring in 1937. The deceased had been married to Mrs. Helen Bell Kite for 48 years, and was a member of the Maillard Primitive Methodist church and Eagles club.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Helen Kite; and children: Lawrence of Baltimore, Md.; Mrs. Alice Shoaf, this city; George Kite of New York City; Mrs. Marjorie M. Koonce, of New Castle; John Kite, of Baltimore, Md.; Donald Kite, of this city; Mrs. Helen Kirkwood, Mrs. Betty McCormick, this city; and Robert Kite of Baltimore, Md.

Surviving are also two brothers: Charles Kite and Walter Kite, both of Wheeling, W. Va., 12 grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be Tuesday at 2 p. m., from the Joseph B. Leyde mortuary, Highland at Winter, Rev. H. O. Fichter in charge. Burial will be in Oak Park cemetery.

The family will receive friends at the mortuary, Sunday and Monday 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 o'clock.

Mrs. James Conti

Mrs. Mary O'Connor Conti, aged 71 years, of 1124 South Mill street, died this morning at 12:45 o'clock at home, following a lingering illness.

Mrs. Conti was born September 24, 1877, in Cook county, Illinois, daughter of William and Catherine Sines O'Connor. She lived here most of her lifetime coming here in early childhood. She was a member of St. Vitus church.

Surviving are her husband, James, to whom she had been married for 54 years, and the following children: Sylvester, San Bernardino, Calif.; Mrs. Martha Mathews, N. Y.; William at home; Mrs. Florence Gennas, of Detroit, Mich.; and Mrs. Catherine Asbaugh, of Washington, Pa. She also leaves three grandchildren, and three great-grandchildren.

Solemn requiem mass will be offered Tuesday morning at 8:30 o'clock in St. Vitus church, interment to be in St. Vitus cemetery.

The body is at the DeCarbo funeral home, East Linton at Connelville, where friends may call anytime. The family will meet friends tonight 7 to 10 o'clock at the funeral home, and Sunday and Monday 2 to 5 and 7 to 10 o'clock.

Stephen Homner

Stephen Homner, aged 66 years, of 9 First street, Ellwood City, was found dead in his bedroom about 5 o'clock Friday afternoon. He had apparently been dead since noon, having been in failing health for three years. Death was probably due to heart failure.

He was born in Transylvania, October 18, 1882. Mr. Homner, a resident of Ellwood City for 43 years, was a member of the German Lutheran church.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Susanna Homner, who is ill in the Ellwood City hospital after undergoing a major operation; seven children, Stephen Homner Jr., South Line, Mich.; Andrew Homner, Cleveland, O.; Mrs. Susanna Lakatos, New York City; Rev. D. G. Homner, Williamsburg, Pa.; Michael Homner, Ellwood City; Rev. J. M. Homner and Fred Homner, both of New Castle; one brother, Andrew Homner, Transylvania, and 16 grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted Monday at 2 p. m., from the German Lutheran church, Wayne avenue, Ellwood City, with her pastor, Rev. Andrew Nagelbauch, and Rev. John Turner, Pricedale, officiating. Interment will take place in Locust Grove cemetery.

Friends may call at the Patton funeral home, Ellwood City, today from 7 to 9 p. m. and Sunday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m.

Funeral Time Changed

Funeral services for the late Thomas Griffith of Waldo street, will be conducted Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the John R. Bigler funeral home South Mill street, instead of Monday afternoon. The change was made due to the arrival late Monday evening, of his daughter, Mrs. Richardson from California.

Friends will be received at the funeral home this evening, 7 to 9 and Sunday and Monday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m.

Mrs. Walter Funeral

Funeral services for Mrs. R. D. Walter, Mahoning township, were conducted Friday at 2 p. m. from the R. L. Boyd funeral home, Rev. J. C. Fulton, Hanover U. P. church, Beaver county, and Rev. Charles Bell, retired Presbyterian pastor, Ellwood City, officiated at the services.

George Dambaugh, LaVerne Bauder, Howard, Arthur, Donald and Walter Aiken served as pallbearers. Interment took place in Mountville cemetery.

Canvassing Difficulty

It was disclosed at the report meeting in the chapter house that many of the women volunteer workers who are canvassing the office buildings are having extreme difficulty. Some have gone to the same location as many as four times to pick up the subscription envelope left on the initial visit. This represents a loss of time for the volunteer workers and unnecessary bothering of the prospective subscriber.

The next regular report meeting will be held Friday, March 26. It is anticipated that this will also be the victory meeting.

Freight Wreck Near Columbus

COLUMBUS, O., March 19.—(INS)—Twenty-two loaded boxcars were wrecked today when a diesel-driven Pennsylvania Railroad freight train cracked up on the western outskirts of Columbus, blocking both east and west through traffic. No one was injured.

Contained in the chain of cars were three gasoline tankers, which spilled fuel over the track area. Precautions were taken to guard against fire.

The 97-car, St. Louis-to-Columbus train was expected to block the tracks until late this afternoon.

Connellsville Man Is Killed By Auto

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., March 19.—(INS)—One man was killed and two women injured today when they were struck by an automobile in Connelville.

The man, James Richter, 45, was killed instantly. His wife, Mary, 30, suffered a fractured right leg and other injuries. A friend, Mary Faust, 27, sustained head and internal injuries. All three live in Connelville.

The car was driven by John Patrick, 24, of Connelville.

"Deserted" U.N.

In general, Soviet sources privately emphasize that in their viewpoint the Western powers have "deserted" U.N. by erecting a rival military combine which strips the world body of all effective authority.

Western representatives are inclined to stress the fact that the Atlantic Pact falls within the charter and as such is bound to have at least some beneficial effects.

These more optimistic spokesmen feel that the weight of the potential military might which can be thrown into action against aggressors will prove in the long run a deterrent to defiance and disregard of the Security Council's endeavors to keep the peace.

Political Virus Hits Court House

Matches And Cards Make Appearance—Many Seem Willing To Serve Public

IN COURT HOUSE

Spring being practically in our laps, the political virus has begun its annual spring attack.

The attack this year seems to be especially prevalent in the court house and a citizen doesn't have to seek long after a match. There's plenty of books of matches to be had, each extolling the virtues of a candidate.

The sheriff's office seems to be a desirable place of abode for at least four gentlemen who would be glad to serve the public. Three others are eyeing the office of register and recorder, and three more would be district attorney.

The Big Beaver Grange Ladies club will hold a noon meeting, March 22, at the home of Mrs. James McChesney. Hostesses are Mrs. McChesney, Mrs. James Beatty, Mrs. Elda McMillen and Mrs. John Brittain.

Hostesses of February will have charge of the program and the WCTU program will follow.

PRESENT PLAY

New Bedford Grange members presented "Have A Heart," three-act comedy play, in the Big Beaver Grange hall on Thursday evening, March 17.

The members of the cast and friends were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Beatty, Little Beaver township. The Beatty family were former residents of New Bedford and were former members of the New Bedford Grange.

BEAVER TOWNSHIP NOTES

Miss Mary E. Young of New Castle visited a few days in the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Duncan of Little Beaver township. Mrs. Clara Rice of Pittsburgh was a recent guest of Mrs. Jennie Davenport and cousin, Mrs. Gibson.

Mrs. Eva McHattie, who has been ill, is improving and able to be around the house.

First Christians Welcome Wengers' During Reception

Large Group Gathers At Church Friday Evening To Honor Rev. And Mrs. Arthur Wenger

Hospitality abounded on every side Friday at the First Christian church, when Rev. and Mrs. Arthur Wenger were officially welcomed as new workers in the church during a reception which attracted approximately 200 to the church parlors. Rev. Wenger, who is associate pastor of the downtown church began his official duties in that capacity on Sunday, March 6.

The pleasant program opened with a receiving line when Rev. and Mrs. Wenger, Dr. and Mrs. Bennett and high officials of the church welcomed the congregation and other guests to the reception for the new minister and his wife.

The program proper opened with Dr. Bennett offering the invocation, after which M. L. Ferguson of the church board took over as master of ceremonies announcing the various participants on the well arranged program. A splendid vocal duet, "Morning" sung by the Lipp twins, Pearl and Grace, Lipp, got the program off to a fine start. Various officials of the church were called upon to extend words of welcome in behalf of his or her department to Rev. and Mrs. Wenger. Speaking were: John Reynolds, chairman of the board of elders; Ted Jamison, chairman of the official board, Ralph McConahy, Sunday school superintendent; Phyllis Saas, youth leader.

Continuing the musical portion of the program, the Lipp sisters favored with "Ah Sweet Mystery" and "Birds' Songs at Eventide." Larry Newingham highly pleased the large group with a trumpet solo, assisted at the piano by June Vincent. James Bowman concluded the fine musical program with the singing of "God Bless You" especially dedicated to the new minister and his wife.

Rev. and Mrs. Wenger responded fittingly to the many remarks and fine program presented in their honor and expressed the belief that their ministry in the city will be an especially happy one due to the fine spirit of hospitality and wealth of friends already obtained. Rev. Wenger closed with prayer.

The group was invited to partake of refreshments served amidst fitting surroundings including ferns and cut flowers. Pouring were: Mrs. C. W. Fleming and Mrs. C. H. Young with members of the social committee serving. General chairman of the event was M. L. Ferguson with Mrs. Roy Waite, responsible for decorations; Mrs. Annabell White refreshment chairman and Mrs. R. K. Allen, who presided at the piano during the evening, program chairman.

creed, the United States, almost the sole remaining bulwark against advancing tide, finds itself without a spokesman, without a champion to proclaim and battle for its traditional, glorious creed, and finds the foundations of its temple crumbling.

"Here, too, in our own America, the State is taking control and ownership of the people. It is using the power to tax to destroy their independence and self-reliance. It is creating free men into vassals and dependents. It is devouring the substance of self-supporting people to render them self-supporting no longer, and to establish a universal reliance upon the paternalism of a 'Great White Father' — a 'Father' corrupted, since great power does corrupt, and absolute power corrupts absolutely.

Not Dared To Resist

"The Republican Party has not dared to resist the tide; it has gone along with it. Not out of conviction, but out of cowardice. Its plea for votes has been the shameful one. Give us the offices, the power, and we'll give you as much of what we believe to be wrong as will the Democrats themselves. "Americans do not respond to any such appeal. They, too, hate a coward. They despise hypocrisy. They hunger for a leadership of good faith. They will accept a brave and fighting leadership tainted with Pendergastism and absolute power corrupts absolutely."

"What a wonderful thing it would be if the Republican National Committee now meeting in Omaha could realize how desperately these United States need a brave and honest Republican Party to raise the flag of a loyal opposition, not alone to a misguided and recreant Democratic Party but opposition to all the monstrous wrongs and error that today menace freedom, self-reliance, human dignity, in every land and every clime.

"How joyously men and women of the ancient faith of this Republic would rally around such a standard!"

"Surely, surely, it shall not be recorded by amazed historians of a later day that when the black flag of absolutism was raised back in the Twentieth Century when the fate of all mankind was involved, there was nowhere in the land, not even our own, an organized body of men and women who had the courage, the devotion, the wisdom, the loyalty to God who made men free, to challenge that foul intruder and to dedicate their lives, their fortunes, their sacred honor, to driving them back into the Dark Ages whence they emerged!"

"Never has there been sounded such a call to service as rings today in the ears of the Republicans Party. Never has there been afforded such an occasion for rising to the heights of human devotion to imperishable ideals.

"The Republican Party can keep on crawling ignominiously along the dusty trail of an order it abhors but shrinks from challenging. Or it can rise out of the dust of four merited defeats, stand erect and unafraid, even proudly take up the battle for all that free men prize.

"It is as simple as that."

TO PRESENT CONCERTS

The Conservatory of Music at Westminster College, will present concerts Monday and Tuesday evenings in the college chapel.

Miss Jean Clark of Oil City, an organist, will present a program Monday evening. She will be assisted by Francis L. Peterson of New Wilmington, baritone, and Paul Rossi of Girard, O., accompanist.

James Ralston, teacher of piano, will give a recital Tuesday evening. Both events are scheduled for 8:15 and the public is invited.

boom could not continue. They were part of an unnatural, unhealthy period when black-market spenders helped to boost inflation. We are still suffering from the evils coming out of that time.

Getting down off that dangerous peak of inflation without a fall is certainly not easy. But with a little common sense and good management by business and government, it should be possible to come to rest on a plateau of high income and high consumption that will mean the fullest use of the nation's power and resources.

STRANGE CUSTOMS

Two years ago this month, the Customs Bureau managed to throw a mild scare into the American people. It had asked for $36,000,000 from Congress for the fiscal year 1948. A little more than $3,000,000 had been lopped from that sum by the House Appropriations Committee. The Customs Bureau was one of a number of departments and bureaus that reacted by using a scare technique.

If that cut is made, said the Customs Bureau March 21, it will be necessary to drop 1,400 border and port patrolmen one week from now. (Later it raised the figure to 1,576). And the United States will be "wide open" to smugglers and illegal immigrants.

The threat was carried out—for a few weeks. But the Appropriations Committee later had an investigation revealed that while essential patrolmen were ruthlessly fired or furloughed, non-essential or political appointees were left undisturbed. And after the headlines faded and the protests died down, most of the patrolmen went back to work.

The payoff came a year later. When the Customs Bureau asked for funds for fiscal 1949, it actually asked for $500,000 less than the amount Congress gave it the year before—less than the sum it said would result in leaving the nation's borders unpatrolled.

Any arm of the government should get a sum large enough to permit it to function efficiently. But the agency's word is an unreliable guide for Congress in determining the size of appropriations. It will be interesting to see how much the Customs Bureaus asks for in fiscal 1950, how much it gets, and whether it tries the same tactics again.

PERSPECTIVES OF WORLD FLIGHT

The dramatic non-stop, round-the-world flight of an Air Force bomber can be viewed from several perspectives. It was a technical achievement of high magnitude. It indicated the peak quality of the military equipment we are now producing. And, above all, the flight was undoubtedly planned to dovetail with our present international policy.

About a year ago, according to reports, a similar flight was projected, and was abandoned at the insistence of the State Department, which then felt it would further annoy the Russians and make an amicable settlement of U. S.-U.S.S.R. disagreements even more difficult. This time, significantly, the State Department took another view, and either endorsed the venture or did nothing to stop it. That in itself is a good example of the change in American diplomatic thinking that has taken place in a very short time.

Our policymakers have clearly come to the conclusion that anything resembling appeasement of Russia can only result in more Communist aggression. Along with this, they feel the need to strengthen the resolves of the Western powers, particularly the smaller ones, which run the greatest potential risks when they throw in their lot with this country and Britain.

The flight, in effect, served notice on the world that American power exists in fact as well as in theory—and that the entire globe is within reach of our military arms. What one plane has done, swarms of others could do in the future if the need arose. But the fact that the flight require several refueling contacts enroute again demonstrates forcefully the need of a balanced military establishment including a navy capable of defending and supplying bases.

Western Europe has long wanted definite demonstrations of this country's military strength. The Western military alliance, if it is to succeed, must have its material base in the United States. Unpleasant as the fact may be, the most sincere pledges of mutual purpose are meaningless unless there exists a huge reservoir of armed force to give the documents meaning.

The European countries, very naturally, would like an outright guarantee that we would go to war if they were attacked, or their independence seriously threatened. That point of view also has many sincere adherents here. But there are equally sincere opponents, who believe that it might be disastrous to commit ourselves in advance of the fact.

Someone has said that the "cold war" is turning into a "cold peace." But no one can now see an end to the saber rattling on either side.

Russians have returned one lend-lease U. S. ship but still have 585 more, or about the usual Russian percentage.

If Canada continues to send one cold front after another, some Usonian may conclude the Canucks are not the best of neighbors.

Too bad Molotov has been given a new job. Perhaps he might have done a series on "My Five Years With Stalin," which would have been interesting.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

By accident or otherwise, a leading Communist party spokesman has revealed the true enlisted strength of Communist "activists" throughout the world to underscore the astonishing manner in which a tiny minority can sway the destiny of all mankind.

The spokesman was Ville Pessi, Communist leader of Finland, who is closer than any of the other puppets and satellite leaders to the Soviet border and presumably knows whereof he speaks.

He added a new twist to the Thorez-Togliatti "we side with the Soviets" line by stating that Communist party membership now totals 18 million, a formidable number perhaps but almost infinitesimal when it is considered that the estimated population of the world is two billion, 174 million persons.

Less Than One Per Cent
The "active" Communist party therefore are less than one per cent of the total. Were it not for the fact that the 180 millions of persons in the Soviet Union follow their Communist leaders slavishly and that a similar situation prevails in satellite countries, the central nucleus could be regarded as an almost negligible quantity.

An interesting thing about Pessi's announcement is that previous estimates of Communist party strength have been far in excess of his figure. The average minimum referred to in the past has been about 25 millions.

Communist party leadership has made legend of the contention that membership is exceedingly difficult to obtain and is closed except to those willing to fight for the cause with fanatic zeal.

Adolf Hitler maintained the same fiction about the Nazi party but later developments have shown that a vast proportion of the German population resisted offers to join and even threats of reprisal if they failed to do so.

Tallied Closely
The newspaper El Mercurio of Santiago, Chile, not long ago made a painstaking investigation of Communist "fifth columnists" throughout the world and came up with a set of figures whose total tallied closely with the Finnish leader's estimate.

Starting off with the premise that there are but six million properly registered and accepted active Communists in Soviet Russia itself, El Mercurio published its findings by continents as follows:

Europe: 14,741,800.
Asia: 2,150,700.
Australia: 27,000.
Africa: 200.
This provided a grand total of 17,310,400, only three-quarters of a million removed from Pessi's more up-to-date compilation.

Events of the last year or so are sufficient proof that the Communists do not need overwhelming numbers to carry out campaigns of strikes, sabotage, espionage, trouble-making in general and even successful revolutions.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

"Dark glasses are the refuge of the neurotic," said a noted Cape-town physician in an article in this month's South African Medical Journal.

"Psychologically their use is often a sign of unwillingness to take a proper view of the world, or perhaps it is to avoid the appraising gaze of the outside world," writes the good doctor.

Nonsense!
It is a curious phenomenon that so many learned people know so little about the things they have learned out of books.

I'll never forget the cartoon I saw in one of the sophisticated periodicals some years ago.

It showed the reception room of a magazine for parents. It was the function of that magazine to tell mothers and fathers how to bring up their kids. It was all very scientific and learned.

The cartoon showed a youngster standing in the middle of the room and a number of people in white coats, with eye glasses, some with whiskers, thoughtfully inspecting the visitor.

Then one of them exclaimed with an air of triumph: "A Child!"

You would have thought he had made an earth-shaking discovery.

In New York's Stork club, in Hollywood's Romanoff's, in Chicago's Pump Room I have seen many would-be celebrities wearing glasses.

Rather than wanting to avoid the gaze of the world they were trying to provoke them.

Those glasses were worn to attract the attention of the on-lookers.

Every once in a while they'd take them off, and you should see the expression of disappointment when nobody recognized them!

Real accomplishment is recognized by deeds, not by looks.

To want to accomplish something is natural. It is the sort of thing that has made America great.

For instance, a few days ago a fellow out in Seattle won some kind of championship because he ate more clams than any of his competitors.

A lot of people laughed about it. I didn't. He accomplished something. He didn't need dark glasses for this moment of glory.

A woman won the duck-carving championship at the Sportsman's Show last week.

A waste of time? Not at all. Anything done well is worth (Continued on Next Page)

tary supplies to armies such as those of China, to stage a marathon filibuster against the North Atlantic pact in Rome and make each succeeding French election a fresh test of democracy's ability to endure.

And it has been shown repeatedly in Northern and South America where congressional committees, grand juries, district attorneys and the various other organs of law and order are involved almost daily with cracking some new conspiracy or rounding up some new gang of subversives.

It might be interesting to know whether there are any "waiting lists" of any appreciable length for Communist party membership. In view of the propaganda that has been spread, these should be endless. But if so they must be lying up in the deep, dark underground for there is little surface indication of enthusiasm for joining.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

CHILD WHO ANNOYS THE COMMUNITY

You can't discipline your neighbor's child directly. In case you try to do so your troubles will multiply.

"Dear Dr. Myers: Please tell me how to handle an obnoxious, unmanageable neighbor boy whose mother lets him run and do as he well pleases. I have seven children who are not allowed to play with this boy, but he loves to get them into trouble whenever possible. This boy 9 years old is overgrown for his age. He loves to throw stones at smaller children and call them dirty names. When I hear it I get nervous and as mad as a hornet. How can I get around this without having a peace bond ordered for these foreign-born greenhorns who think they are better than the American born? Don't tell me to move because I enjoy where I live, outside of this one family."

Children Can Help
In part, I answered her: Your practical problem is to win that boy to better ways and I believe all those fine children of yours can help you do it. Its not so much a matter of how you feel about the problem as of what you can do to correct it. You can call for police protection but the child and his parents can then find all sorts of ways "to get even." You have commanded your children not to play with him but you can't keep him from annoying them elsewhere.

Apparently, that boy is never welcomed to your home. Other parents near you may also be ostracizing him. That his parents were foreign born may make you look down on them, and you indicate that you do. Naturally, your children imitate your words and attitudes.

At a calm and quiet moment while all alone, use your imagination at putting yourself in the places of this child and his parents. How would you feel toward a neighbor family like your own? Imagine yourself as that over-size, not doing well at school, and not accepted but ostracized and looked down on by the neighbors and dubbed a foreigner.

Probably your own children have innocently called this boy a foreigner and spoken to him in ugly ways about his parents. How could we expect them to do otherwise since you have told them they are too good to play with this boy? Granted that this boy's parents haven't managed him well, however hard they may have tried to do so. Isn't it natural for them to come to his defense under the conditions, even though their doing so makes him behave worse?

Down deep inside that boy and his parents must lurk a lot of loneliness. Why not try to bring it out? You probably won't accept my advice but here it is: You and Dad agree that you will never again say mean and ugly things about these neighbors, and to influence your children to change their ways too. While you might not have your children right away go to this boy's home to play, you will welcome him to your home when you are there so long as he abides by your rules. Try to cultivate genuine neighborliness with the parents. If you can help (Continued on Next Page)

Need Common Sense And Management

WINTER PARK, Fla., March 19.—When you take a local plane from Miami to almost any other point in Florida, you are likely to see a lot of this state. It is the modern equivalent of the slow train through Arkansas—the milk run with a stop and a friendly exchange of mail and passengers wherever there seems to be a convenient airstrip.

In coming here from Key West, I changed planes once at Miami and we stopped at West Palm Beach, Ft. Myers, St. Petersburg, Tampa and Lakeland before putting down at Orlando, which is the airport for all this rich mid-Florida region. We went up and down with such frequency that I may even have left out a stop or two.

The Governor Of Florida

By PAUL GALLICO

You know, there has been a lot of kidding in this Department from time to time about my electing Governor Fuller Warren of Florida, which nonsense the Governor has taken in good part, but darned if I'm not fixing to take a little pride in the fact that the man, and some of the things for which he stood, appealed to me and that I wrote a piece about him before he was elected.

Because it seems to me that he is showing himself to be a thumping good governor and more.

The ashes in the inaugural barbecue pits have been cool less than three months, and already he has had the courage to stick out his neck and warn the Ku Klux Klan to pick up and get out of Florida, and has demanded the resignation from his staff of honorary colonels of admitted Kiansmen in their number, of which he was not aware at the time the invitations were issued.

And not content with taking on that fight, he has challenged the roughest, toughest, richest syndicate of the U. S. demi-world when he cleaned the bookmakers out of the hotels and off the beaches of Florida.

Like Him For Doing It

I like him for doing it and I like his reasons for throwing down the gauge. They were virile, practical, honest business reasons. Florida, a vacation State where people come to relax from their cares, recuperate and have a good time has race tracks where the visitor can go, sit in the sun, sip a cooling drink, watch the bang-tails run and yield to the human instinct to gamble, get a run for his money and maybe make expenses.

The State of Florida derives considerable revenue from the racing industry, revenue which is a part of the business of running the State, and which flowing in from the tracks in taxes and breakage, benefits the native Floridians in the form of roads, schools, grade crossings, etc., for which he would otherwise pay out of his own pocket in other taxes. This way the visitor helps to foot the bill and feels no particular pain in the process.

However, the parasitical bookmakers operating under concession, in the luxury hotels and in the beach cabana, were siphoning off this revenue into their own pockets. For every bet made with a bookie the State lost money. The book-making syndicate that operates this racket is wealthy, cruel and powerful. Warren simply moved them out, and to date, I understand, has made it stick. I suppose an inveterate bettor can still call up a horse parlor in downtown Miami and get aboard, but at least it is an attack upon his indolence. And maybe Warren will get around to the joints next.

I suppose I am more of a reformer than the Governor, because I have always considered that there was something obscene about a party lolloping on the beach, or glued to one of those little round stools in the cocktail bar and perpetrating his gambling on the side.

How To Do It

Sez I, if a fellow wants to bet on the horses, let him get in a cab, thereby providing work for cab drivers, run out to Hialeah, or wherever they are running, pay his admission, yielding his bite to government and State, go down into the paddock, select his horse and rider and buy his ticket at the window. And then I want him to beat it back to the rail or clubhouse enclosure and yell like blazes when his giddyap comes down the stretch.

He can, in a way, attend in absentia by tuning in his portable radio as he munches his caviar or pate de foie gras under the striped beach umbrella and murmuring, "Come on, Salsify II. I gotta bet down on you," as the race is run, but I just feel that that isn't doing a thing to improve the breed of horses, or fatten the treasury of the sovereign State of Florida.

I know you will say that since a chap is coming to Florida to rest and have fun his own way, why not let him bet on the beach, or in the lobby, or lying supine on his bed in his room, or any way he wants to. But I am just pig-headed enough to say—dog-gone it, NO. If you want to bet on the nags go on out to the track. Which is why I would make a punk Governor. And why Warren is a good one. He just says to the books, "Boys, you're bad for our business. Raust!" (Distributed by McNamara Syndicate, Inc.)

State Police Say:

Signs bearing the legend, "Slippery When Wet" have become common familiar to Pennsylvania motorists. They are erected only at places along the highways where it is known that the surface of the roadway becomes slippery during rainy weather, and these warning signs should never be ignored. Don't be the one to test the accuracy of these signs . . . obey them.

The World and the Mud Puddles

A CALL TO ARMS
A meeting of the Republican National Committee was recently held in Omaha. During its session, the Omaha World-Herald, a Republican newspaper, stripped its decks and let fly with an article entitled "What's the Matter With Kansas?" aimed at nothing else but the Republican party for its weakness, cowardice, and complete lack of appraisal in the trends of government of the United States in its swift drift towards bankruptcy and Socialism. It gave the Omaha paper a chance to, in a way, duplicate that famous newspaper story entitled "What's the Matter With Kansas?" published by the late William Allen White.

The article gave such a good appraisal of the present situation of the Republican Party that I think it is a good thing to publish the words of "Go Home, A Coward." They are as follows: "That's the gospel truth. If any witnesses were needed to attest it, the Republican Party of 1936-1948 would more than suffice."

For twelve years the Republican Party has been a coward, a moral coward. In consequence, it begins to take on the appearance of something the cat dragged in. Speaking broadly, the Republican Party consists of men and women who are opposed to the swift trend toward the omnipotent State that is sweeping every section of the earth. Whether it be defined as Communism, Fascism, Socialism, Totalitarianism, Statism, the New Deal, or Insurance State, these men and women regard it as a thing of infinite menace, however cunningly disguised, and however ardently supported by good but misguided people.

Lacked Courage
"But the Republican Party has lacked the courage to say what its rank and file believe. Out of hunger for the fleshpots, it has lacked the patriotism, and loyalty, to stand up for the free Republic of the founding fathers and to fight for it. Due to that lack of moral courage, in the American (Continued on Next Page)

The Thrill That Comes Once in a Lifetime: BY H. T. WEBSTER

JOBS UPON A TIME

Ignace Jan Paderewski, brilliant musician was born in Poland, 1860, and began the study of piano when a mere child. At 18 he was teacher of piano technique in the conservatory in Warsaw. After a concert tour of Poland and Russia, he toured the world, becoming one of the most famous of all pianists and composers. He did relief work for Polish war sufferers during World War I, was active in organizing his country as a republic in 1918-19, and became its chief of state. After having resigned that high office, he made farewell tours as pianist, and died at Morges, Switzerland, June 29, 1941.

Born at Ripon, Wis., in 1859, Carrie Chapman Catt was a widely known worker for the cause of woman suffrage, attended Iowa State. She was principal of a high school and general superintendent of schools in Mason City, Ia. In 1890-92 she was state lecturer and organizer for the National Woman Suffrage association and its president. She was a leader in the successful campaign to submit the woman suffrage amendment to the constitution. She died at the age of 83 in New Rochelle, N. Y., on March 9, 1947.

Grove City Pastor Youth For Christ Program Speaker

Bus Load of Young People From Grove City Church Will Attend Downtown Rally

Rev. Richard Fitch and members of the First Baptist church of Grove City will conduct the New Castle Youth for Christ rally this evening at 7:45 o'clock in the First Baptist church, North at East streets.

The speaker will bring along both vocalists and instrumentalists who will assist in the program. Both Rev. and Mrs. Fitch are excellent vocal soloists. The program will include a piano solo played with the keyboard masked and the player blindfolded. The address of the evening will be adapted to youth.

To add to the service, Rev. Fitch plans to bring along a bus load of young people from the Grove City church. The young people will be heard in a group number. Rev. Earl Collins will direct the program and Rev. Cy Smith will be music director. The pianist will be Miss Pearl Gibbons, while at the organ will be Mrs. Rose Bender.

Rev. O. J. Warnath Continues Series

Sunday morning Rev. O. J. Warnath, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Jefferson at Grant street, will continue his series of sermons entitled "The Ten Commandments." His topic for this Sunday will be "Thou Shalt Not Steal."

During the evening service at 7:45 o'clock a song service will be conducted and the film, "Daniel in the Lions' Den" will be shown.

Speeds of electric motors range from 120,000 revolutions a minute to as low as a single r. p. m. or stall.

Bessemer Juniors To Present Play

Bessemer High school Junior class will present their play, "So Help Me Hanna," a three-act comedy in the high school auditorium on Friday evening, April 8 at 8 p. m.

The scenes take place in the Bascomb living room in a thriving city somewhere in the U. S. The plot centers around Willie Bascomb, an average teen-ager who gets himself into a heap of trouble which finally all turns out well. The play is presented with special arrangements with the Willis M. Bugbee Co.

NEWPORT

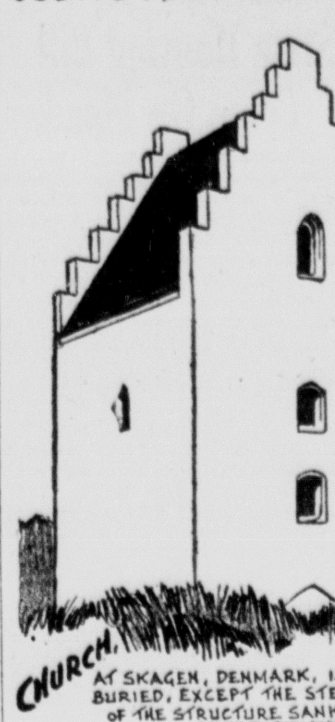

There will be an old fashioned song service held on Sunday evening March 20 at 7:30 p. m. at the Newport M. E. church. The service will be under the direction of Mr. Frank Wiley of Ellwood City. Mr. Wiley is associated with the Christian Business Men. He will be remembered as having helped with the dedication service last August, having directed the afternoon service at that time. There will be special music and speakers and anyone having a request of an old song just ask and it will be rendered. This program is sponsored by the W.S.C.S. ladies.

Sunday school at 1:30 p. m., Sabbath at 8:30 p. m. Rev. James Palmer, pastor; Eugene Hall, supt. Evening service, 6:30 p. m.; Youth Fellowship, 7:30 p. m.; the Old Fashion song service.

The Ladies Bible study group met at the home of Mrs. Ruby Shearer for their monthly meeting. Several hymns were rendered and Bible questions were answered. Prayers by Mrs. Shearer and Mrs. Evelyn Kennedy. The topic was "Prayer in the Home." A delicious lunch was served by the hostess carrying out the St. Patrick motif.

Mrs. Lawrence Hammer of Beaver Falls visited Mr. and Mrs. Harry Allen and Mr. and Mrs. John Cory Wednesday.

Alliance Church Has New Public Address System

Hearing Aids Installed For Use Of Deaf; Other Improvements
To Be Made At Church

As an aid during the services in the Alliance Gospel Tabernacle, 210 Pearson street, a fine new public address system has been installed in the church. Installation of the new system has been going on for the past few weeks by members of the church with the work completed a few days ago. Included in the outfit are four speakers, two in the main auditorium, one in the auditorium annex and one in the church basement for overflow audiences. For the benefit of the deaf six individual hearing aids have been installed in the pews with the users being able to control the sound to their individual need.

The new system enables the congregation to hear the sermons being preached at any point in the church. Plans are going ahead for other improvements in the church, including repainting of the auditorium. In the fall the church will be host to the Western Pennsylvania district prayer conference when some 200 ministers and delegates will be attracted to the city.

No man's collar!

A FAVORITE trick of those who would like to destroy confidence in newspapers as the first step to doing away with them is to complain that they are the tools of special interests dangerous to the people. Sometimes they say it is the bankers or the politicians or the labor unions or the advertisers—whatever fits the occasion.

Usually the critics have their own axes to grind. What they want published are their own opinions and not contrary ones. They would like to be the "special interests" represented exclusively in the newspapers.

If such people had their way, there would not be the newspaper as you know it today. They would eliminate the great variety of facts and opinions that appear and without which democracy would not work.

To exercise your rights as a free citizen, you must have free access to information. You must know about laws and prices and theories and movements so that you can approve or protest. Ignorant of events and trends, you would not be able to keep your representatives in government representing you.

Now you get the facts of what takes place and you get the opinions of why they take place and what should be done. You get all sides of questions—statements by bankers and borrowers, businessmen and labor leaders, government officials and private citizens. The editor has his views too but he can't limit his pages to them. Readers include all sorts of people and all shades of opinions. If the editor wears any kind of a collar, it doesn't belong to one man or group. The leash is held by all his readers.

What the critics don't want and are afraid of is the diversity of facts and opinions brought to you by newspapers. They actually want a one-class, one-idea press—the kind that Hitler had and that Stalin runs today. If they succeed, it will sound the death knell of freedom in America.

These critics are your enemies as much as they are enemies of the newspapers. When they take away the right of a free press, they take it away from you. They know that if they can control what you read they can control your mind—and you. Working sometimes openly as committees with high-sounding slogans, they are blueprinting what you shall and shall not read.

There is nothing particularly new in the pattern. But you cannot ignore it without risk. If you permit these self-styled leaders to take away your right to read what you want, when instead of a free exchange of facts and opinions, you decide to depend on the propaganda they hand out, you will have taken the first steps towards the loss of all your rights as a free citizen.

Your right to know is the key to all your liberties

Predicts Further New Plane Records

CLEVELAND, March 19.—(INS)—John Stack, co-winner of the 1948 Collier Award for Aeronautical Research, predicted Friday that thermo-jet propelled airplanes will surpass all existing long-distance flight records.

In an address to more than 500 of the country's top jet engine experts, in Cleveland for the Fourth National Flight Propulsion meeting of the Institute of the Aeronautical Sciences, Stack declared:

"Developments in aeronautical research go beyond national defense—they filter through the entire industrial machine."

"New approaches are needed in the study of flight to permit greater improvements in jet-propelled aircraft."

Britons Concerned Over Small Meat Ration Allowed

LONDON, March 19.—(INS)—Britons expressed concern today over the reduction of their meat ration to the lowest level since rationing was begun early in the war.

Newspapers agreed that the meat situation has reached a "crisis point" because of the delivery of less than half the meat expected from Argentina.

The ration was cut to 15 cents worth of fresh meat per person per week from the previous 20 cent level. This would allow each person approximately two small lamb chops or a small cut of stewing beef weekly.

Youth For Christ Vision Conference

PHILADELPHIA, March 19.—(INS)—The Youth for Christ movement, which has spread to 55 countries, opens a nine-day world vision conference at town hall in Philadelphia tonight.

More than 100 churches and youth groups in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York are cooperating in current Youth for Christ World Vision rallies.

Representing churches of nine denominations, regional conferences will be conducted simultaneously in Philadelphia, Brooklyn, N. Y., Vineland, N. J., and Bethlehem and Norristown, Pa.

Heading the list of speakers in Philadelphia tonight will be Dr. Robert A. Cook, of Chicago, president of the movement.

Around Hollywood

By FRANK NEILL
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, March 18.—This is Hollywood, Mister Jones!

Burt Lancaster, the movie tough guy, once worked in the ladies' lingerie department of a Chicago department store . . . Alan Ladd still holds an interscholastic swimming record, but he's too skinny ever to portray a movie "Tarzan" . . . Veronica Lake was born Constance Ockelman, changed her name to Constance Keane and later latched onto her current moniker when she was screen-tested for "I Wanted Wings" and started wearing the famous "Peek-Boo" hair-do.

John Bromfield was discovered by a talent scout in San Diego while working as a tuna fisherman . . . Ronald Colman, who made his professional debut playing a banjo at a smoker, first became interested in the theater as a disabled vet of World War I . . . Montgomery Clift, the new bobby-sox idol, still drives a 1939 automobile around the glamour jungle . . . Arlene Whelan is one of Hollywood's most avid baseball fans. Her pop, Art Whelan, performed with a half dozen western minor leagues when she was a kid . . .

Pickle Worker
Bing Crosby's first job was in a pickle factory at Spokane, Wash. . . . Hedy Lamarr, who speaks six languages, has had four husbands—just about par for the Hollywood course . . . Dan Duryea, who used to be an advertising executive, is one of the most publicity-savvy gents in the movies.

He seldom gives interviews to any reporter who doesn't write for a news service or syndicate . . . Victor Mature possesses one of filmdom's heftiest appetites. At restaurants he usually tells the waiter to bring him two orders, and often asks for thirds . . . Elizabeth Scott was evicted from six apartments in one year on account of the housing shortage and finally bought a house . . . Edward Arnold learned to be an actor by practicing making faces in a mirror while he worked as an engine room oiler.

Glove Salesman
By the time Sam Goldwyn was 18 he was known as the best glove salesman in the world, knocking down more dough than most business magnates . . . Marie Wilson, whose real name is Katherine Elizabeth White, is the hardest-working actress in movietown. Except for a two-week vacation she has worked every day on the stage, radio or in pictures since 1942.

Olivia De Havilland, who might cop an Academy award for her role in "The Snake Pit," is so afraid of snakes that even a photograph of one makes her deathly ill . . . Cecil B. De Mille owns one of the largest private religious libraries in the world—10,000 volumes . . . Robert Cummings was christened Charles Clarence Robert Orville Cummings. The Orville was in honor of the pioneer aviator, Orville Wright, and Bob today is Hollywood's hottest private pilot.

Lutherans To Meet At Rochester, Pa.

Many Lutherans of the New Castle district will assemble in Grace Lutheran church, Rochester, Pa., for the annual spring convention of the West Conference of the Pittsburgh Synod, United Lutheran church, Tuesday, March 22. The session opens at 9 a. m. and continues through the afternoon hours.

A communion service led by Dr. Charles E. Reed of Monaca, Pa., will open the parley with Dr. Royal E. Leshner of New York the morning speaker. Rev. F. H. Daubenspeck of Ellwood City will be heard in the afternoon on the "Lutheran World Action." Representatives of various Lutheran institutions will be heard in the afternoon.

Dinner will be served at noon by women of the host church.

Says Trend Should Be Lewis Warning

HARRISBURG, March 19.—(INS)—The walkout of United Mine Workers to underline President John L. Lewis' objection to the appointment of a new U. S. director of mines today prompted a Reading railroad official to threaten retaliation.

R. C. Thran, Harrisburg division superintendent of the Reading, said the trend from coal locomotives to Diesel engines should serve as a warning to Lewis despite objections to the appointment of Director William Boyd.

"If John L. Lewis keeps up his tactics we may get all Diesels and then we can't have smoke trouble," he said during a smoke control meeting in Harrisburg.

"As time goes on, we see Diesel power becoming predominant," he added "that's the trend".

Europe Hails Atlantic Pact As Peace Move

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, March 19. — Europe viewed announcement of the North Atlantic pact as one of the most important events of the century.

The continent's leading western statesmen hailed the defensive agreement as the greatest peace-time military alliance in history.

While western governments assured their people that the pact will help to preserve peace and stem Soviet expansionism, Communist-dominated eastern European governments sought to frighten the masses into belief it will increase the danger of war.

Men like British Foreign Secretary Bevin foresaw the alliance creating a "Pax Americana" for the western world.

Will Checkmate Russia

Other European statesmen, for example Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Saak of Belgium, feel that it will serve to checkmate Russia militarily in Europe, help restore the balance of power and perhaps eventually pave the way for an understanding with Russia.

The French government emphasized the defensive nature of the pact.

Foreign Minister Robert Schuman took the position that the agreement never would have been necessary had not Soviet Russia imposed her domination over eastern Europe and sought to extend communism throughout Europe.

Schuman's official attitude in respect to the pact is as follows: "Political events which have occurred in eastern Europe—increasingly absolute submission of the satellite governments to Moscow—and the Soviet-sponsored creation of a network of alliances involving 23 treaties have led to an increasingly dangerous situation."

Conditions Of Security

"The western European governments, also alive to Cominform activities, therefore have sought to re-create conditions of security which obviously have been disappearing."

"Under these conditions the most effective way of maintaining peace and security consisted in a powerful association of states determined to defend themselves against all aggression."

Lord Vansittart, former British foreign office adviser, said by telephone from London:

"Conclusion of this pact is an event of immeasurable importance. It is the greatest contribution to international security we have ever had in peacetime."

"The pact goes as far as any reasonable person can expect. It is indeed clear and unmistakable. Everyone except professional ill-wishers will take this opportunity to pay tribute to the government and people of the United States on the immense stride they have made in so short a while in comprehension of international realities."

"The Kremlin will not really misinterpret the pact as aggressive instead of defensive. It will of course pretend to do so and will try and distort the meaning of the pact. But in its heart the Kremlin knows it is defensive and also knows that Soviet policy is the primary cause of the agreement."

Train Robber Files Suit For $50,000 Against B. & O.

Charges Jesse James Action Due To Being Served Drinks On Train

WASHINGTON, March 19. — (INS)—George L. Ashton, confessed train robber, asked $50,000 damages from the Baltimore & Ohio railroad today charging that his emulいた of Jesse James resulted from intoxicating drinks served him on the train.

Ashton filed his suit in Washington with his mother Mrs. Ruth Ungar, of Poland, O., charging that he was under age and in an intoxicated condition when he was served the drinks.

Ashton is being held in a Washington jail for trial in West Virginia. The hold up took place last week near Martinsburg.

With Ashton was Luman C. Ramsdell, of Youngstown, O., who was shot when the pair was arrested in Washington the morning after the spectacular train robbery.

The complaint charges that dining car porters aboard the crack B & O "Ambassador" were "obviously aware" that Ashton was intoxicated but he was nevertheless served the drinks.

TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS PROVE VERY COSTLY

PITTSBURGH, March 19. — (INS)—Traffic accidents cost more than crime last year in Pittsburgh. The Better Traffic committee reported yesterday that traffic accidents in Pittsburgh caused a loss of $4,500,000 in 1948 as compared with $1,348,000 for crime.

TOWERMAN JUMPED WHEN HE SAW THIS COMING

WORKING PEACEFULLY in his signal tower along the Pennsylvania railroad tracks near Retreat, Pa., R. J. Stanton suddenly saw 19 derailed cars of a freight train heading his way. The one look was enough. He leaped from the tower and over an embankment, but was buried under flying debris. Trainmen pulled him to safety. The tower? It's in the middle of that pileup. SAN ANTONIO, Tex., March 19. —There are bigger cities in Texas than San Antonio, and richer ones. But this sunny city snaps her fingers at 'em.

For San Antonio possesses the unique jewel and the heart of the Lone Star state—the Alamo.

What Mecca is to Mohammedans, Plymouth Rock to Mayflower descendants and the Liberty Bell to the DAR, the Alamo is to Texans—only more so.

In the Alamo, on March 6, 1836, a handful of beleaguered Texans chose to die to the man in their war of independence against Mexico.

Their ammunition gone, a little band of 182 men, many ill and wounded, refused to surrender to a Mexican force of 4,000. They chose massacre within the walls of the old Alamo church rather than haul down the Texas flag.

"Thermopylae had its messenger of death, the Alamo had none," is the proud boast of Texans. "Remember the Alamo" has resounded since wherever Texans have fought.

Mite Rambunctious

Sometimes Texans may seem a mite rambunctious to the rest of the world and their pride a bit inflated.

But a visit to the Alamo makes this Texas breed a little more credible, and their pride in themselves and their state a bit more understandable to those of us who only stand and wait while a Texan talks.

The bustle of heavy city traffic and the shadow of tall buildings surround the Alamo today for it nestles in the heart of downtown San Antonio.

More than two centuries ago,

Sic Semper Gloria: The famous old Buckhorn saloon is now a curio shop. But the old Menger hotel, built before the Civil war, is still famous for its hospitality, its food and a San Antonio legend.

It was in the Menger, then new and resplendent with brocade and crystal chandeliers, that Lt. Col. Robert E. Lee a temporary prisoner when, at the outbreak of the Civil war, he came through San Antonio enroute to Virginia to resign his commission in the U. S. army.

Lee then stationed in the west, was finally permitted to proceed on his journey home. But legend says that the men who had been his fellow officers refused to surrender his luggage or to permit him to wear the insignia of the Union.

The old world and the new mingle here, where the tide of the Spanish conquistadores and the rush of American pioneers locked in battle and was decided, even in defeat, at the Alamo.

Donors for the month included: Mrs. Henderson, Ruth Circle, King's Daughters, Unity church, Mrs. Jacobson, First Baptist church, Mrs. Woods and R. W. classes of Grace church; Mrs. Arble, Adult youth of First Baptist; W. C. Bowman, Miss Grace Rogers, Mrs. Thomas Gilkey, Mrs. E. L. Young, Rebecca Missionary Society, First U. P. church.

High School Choir Will Sing Sunday

Members of the A Cappella choir of New Castle Senior High school will offer a sacred concert Sunday evening, March 20, at 7:30 o'clock in Third U. P. church. The singers are under the direction of Miss Helen R. Leslie.

What Congressmen Have To Say About New Pact

WASHINGTON, March 19. — (INS)—Congressional comment on the text of the North Atlantic pact indicated that the senate will quickly ratify the defense treaty, although some legislators voiced sharp criticism.

The criticism ranged from assertions that the pact should be "stronger" to protests against the "stronger" to protests against the implementation of the treaty.

Comment follows:
Sen. Connally (D) Tex., chairman of the foreign relations committee: "I am sure that after the pact is signed in April, and after thorough hearings and debate, the senate will ratify it. Our purpose is in behalf of peace and the settlement of international disputes by peaceful methods and not by war. I am glad the test is made public, so American people will know its terms well in advance of senate action."

Sen. Thomas (D) Utah, member foreign relations committee: "The pact is wholly satisfactory to me. I believe it will contribute to bringing a desirable unity, looking toward peace of the world."

Will Uphold It
Senate Appropriations Chairman McKellar (D) Tenn.: "If the pact is signed and ratified, I am sure the appropriations committee will uphold it and take all proper steps to carry it out. We shall insist, however, on full information on what is planned for implementing it."

Sen. McCarran (D) Nev., appropriations committee member: "I am for it. I think it is going to be eminently necessary in the near future. I am convinced that as soon as Russia gets the atomic bomb, the war is on."

Sen. Bridges (R) N.H., former appropriations chairman: "It must be made clear to the public that when we enter the pact we assume tremendous responsibilities. That means not only leadership, but definite commitments and appropriations. Congress should know the full picture of what the commitments mean and what money will be necessary to implement them."

Need Stronger Treaty
Rep. Kee (D) Va., chairman of the house foreign affairs committee: "I would rather have seen a stronger treaty, but I recognize that it could not have been stronger and still be assured of ratification by all parties. I think they have gone just about as far as they could go under the circumstances. The treaty will carry a moral obligation on all parties, but I personally would have preferred a real binding obligation."

Rep. Fulton (R) Pa., committee member: "I think some sort of defense arrangement is necessary, but I'm sorry to see so much military emphasis with just a little froth on economic and social well being provisions."

Sen. Ferguson (R) Mich.: "I think the pact expresses what has been implied by our actions. At the present moment, I don't see that it violates in any way our constitutional prerogatives (of Congress) in international affairs."

Mighty Strong Language
Sen. Ellender (D) La.: "Article five is mighty strong language. But I believe it leaves to Congress the decision of declaring war."

I am inclined to support it."

Rep. Eaton (R) N.J., former chairman and top-ranking Republican: "The fact is that the Russian government program is world conquest. The next normal move for them is against western Europe as the best way of striking against the United States. I consider this pact an absolute necessity so long as Russia holds to that position."

Rep. Douglas (D) Calif.: "It's marvelous. It's a real advance under the United Nations. When you can get everybody in the world to say this, you will have abolished war."

Civil Air Patrol Organizing Here

Both Operators At Local Airfield Cooperating To Form Air Defense Unit

Plans to organize a unit of the Civil Air Patrol at the New Castle airfield are now being formulated. Both operators at the local port are cooperating to organize a unit of the nation-wide organization that has been cited by secretary of defense as one of the most important groups in the national defense program.

The purpose of the organization is to train personnel for air duty in times of emergency.

In peacetime the group would operate in air-ground rescue units, do evacuation work, and air search as recently practiced when the army training plan was lost near Pittsburgh.

In times when the security of the country is endangered the CAP personnel would be organized to patrol pipe lines and do aerial reconnaissance over public utilities and natural resources.

Government To Aid
The government will furnish training material and supplies for the CAP here, including a link trainer. Instruction classes will be held one night per week. Many phases of aeronautical training will be offered such as basic ground school, aircraft parts and controls, flight training and instrument training.

It will be possible for a layman with no previous experience to learn to fly by attending the classes regularly for a period of about three years.

Former service personnel with air corps experience are urged to join the CAP and assist in setting up the organization here.

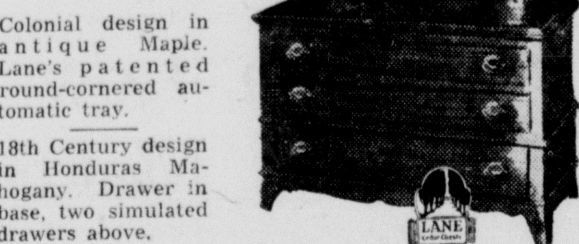

Those interested in joining the CAP are requested to sign up at the Wilson's Flying Service or the Penn Aero Service, Sunday, March 20.

Recruits Sought For National Guard And Reserve Corps

U. S. Army And Air Force Recruiters Begin Intensive Campaign In State

Captain Charles E. Weddie, commanding officer U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Main Station, announced today the Pennsylvania recruiters have commenced an intensive drive for National Guard and Enlisted Reserve corps enlistments.

Vacancies now exist in all branches of the service for Enlisted Reservists and in many units of the Pennsylvania National Guard, both ground and air. Applicants may be enlisted in the rank held at time of discharge, if a veteran; if a non-veteran, they will be offered a grade commensurate with their experience and training. Enlistment in either the ERC or the NG may now be accomplished at any U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force recruiting station, on any day during the week and at the Main Station located in the Frew building on every Monday evening from 5:30 p. m. until 8:30 p. m. Heretofore, enlistment in these organizations could be accomplished only at specified locations.

Members of the ERC can not be called to duty without their consent except in period of national emergency. They may, however, volunteer for active duty at any time. It was pointed out that reservists now receive pay for drill attendance and summer camps, as well as earning yearly retirement credits. Reserve commissions are also available to qualified individuals.

National guardsmen may obtain similar benefits by enlisting for the unit nearest their home in which vacancies exist. Qualified individuals are urged to contact the local U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Main Station located in the Frew building or the Recruiting Station located in the Post Office building for further details about this new program.

COMPANIES INCREASE

NEW YORK. — (INS) — There are 121 more legal reserve life insurance companies in the U. S. now than at the end of the war. The Institute of Life Insurance reports there are 584 companies meeting definitions of state insurance departments.

DRASTIC EFFECT

PASADENA, Cal. — (INS) — An ambulance screamed to a stop beside a parked car where Wayland N. Cushman, 40 sat glassy-eyed and unconscious. Revived, he explained: "I ate some raw onions. They always effect me this way."

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

They Love To Carry Things

Little children love to carry things. Paper bags, tin cans with handles, baskets, shopping bags—all these seem to fascinate the toddler and the child a bit older. Psychologists who have pondered over the reasons have developed a couple of theories but still aren't certain why such activity seems to be so satisfying. The fact remains that it is.

Out of things found around the house, parents can supply both the equipment and the opportunity for carrying activity. A regular-size shopping bag, or for the youngest a junior size run up on the sewing machine, is one of the best. A can with a handle is good, too, for it has the advantage of giving forth pleasing noises when blocks, big buttons or other hard objects are jounced up and down.

Recently there have appeared on the toy market very well made small-sized shopping baskets on wheels, just the kind that mother uses. They have an air of reality that makes them most desirable. If the youngster has a collection of carrying bags, boxes, and baskets, he is much more likely to keep his toy autos, small blocks and other easily scattered objects together, which is an additional premium as far as the appearance of the house is concerned.

Thickened fuel, a wartime stuff for flame throwers and bombs to start fires in enemy strongholds, is replacing food and coal kindling to start fires in giant industrial boilers. It is a time and fuel saver, speed being its particular advantage.

IT'S ABOUT TIME WE TORE DOWN THE CHINESE WALL OF LEGISLATURE

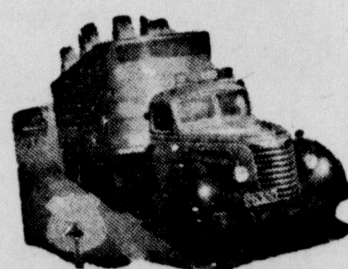

There was a time in the dim distant past, when the Chinese Wall had a place in the defense of China. Bowman couldn't pierce the stones and horses couldn't jump over. It was quite a defensive achievement.

Today invaders never think of the Chinese Wall. Heavy artillery and air weapons make it nothing more than a minor irritation.

The motor truck industry has had a Chinese Wall of legislation around it for years. Back in the early '20's the legislation fitted the type of truck built and the type of highway installed.

Today that legislation is a relic of the solid tire, poorly designed truck. But unfortunately the laws are still on the books, governing an industry which has made giant strides in the field of transportation, but which could be even more efficient.

Isn't it about time to tear down the Chinese Wall of motor truck legislation?

SOVIET PAPER ASSAILS PACT

Izvestia Charges Atlantic Pact Is 'Aggressive Conspiracy Against Peace'

LONDON, March 19.—(INS)—Moscow radio said today that the Soviet government newspaper Izvestia has termed the Atlantic pact an "aggressive conspiracy against peace."

An earlier broadcast charged that the treaty, published yesterday, "means war on the Soviet Union."

In an English language broadcast by Soviet commentator Lennin, Moscow radio charged that the pact was framed by "Anglo-American imperialists."

The broadcast, heard in London by the Soviet Monitor, declared: "It is not only Italy which fights the Atlantic pact. . . .

"Millions of people realize that the pact means war on the Soviet Union. . . . they are convinced that the anti-Communist campaign conceals the desire of Anglo-American imperialists to strangle the freedom and sovereignty of other nations and plunge them into the maelstrom of a new war in the interests of Anglo-American world domination."

Other Soviet broadcasts claimed that a "people's upheaval" is taking place against the pact in many western nations. They cited specifically the Communist-Led Socialist attack on the alliance in the Italian parliament.

In a review of international affairs by Soviet commentator Grishanin, Moscow radio declared that the pact is an "aggressively aimed treaty. . . of the Anglo-American bloc for world domination. . . whatever verbal twists may envelope its fourteen points."

Western Germany Hails Atlantic Pact

FRANKFURT, March 19.—(INS)—Political circles in western Germany almost unanimously hailed the North Atlantic pact today, and the president of the western German constituent assembly called it the best guarantee for western Germany.

Konrad Adenauer also termed it the best safeguard for Berlin as long as Germany "is unable to defend herself."

A key figure in the right-wing liberal Democrats emphasized that the pact proves the United Nations has failed, just as the league of nations did.

SHE SAW IT AND SAWED IT

Buster has a tough time styding language. Grand dad calls it grammar. Verbs and nouns and prepositions are tough.

Meat is sometimes tough too. Sometimes Mom gets enough money to buy a ham. Then she has to cut it or slice it or saw the bones. She has her own troubles. She is usually in a hurry and that doesn't help much.

Probably she calls for Dad. He is not a professional meat cutter. He puts the ham on the slippery sink among a lot of dishes. Then the ham slips and the saw slips and the dishes slip and Dad slips and the air gets blue. After Mom gets his fingers bandaged she cuts the meat herself. O Hum! Accidents will happen.

Prescription From Doctor Is Needed To Secure Coal

Restriction Announced By Officials Of World's Largest Producer Of Fuel

GLEN ALDEN, Pa., March 19.—(INS)—A doctor's prescription was a requisite today for the purchase of coal from the Glen Alden Coal Company, the world's largest producer of the fuel.

Company officials announced the restriction in the face of dwindling supplies in the anthracite region caused by John L. Lewis' memorial mine work stoppage.

The producer also arranged to provide coal on certification of the board of health and Red Cross after investigators ascertain absolute need by a careful check.

State officials, meanwhile, announced an investigation into alleged capitalization of the scarcity by some truckers who reportedly are selling coal at short weight by transferring it from one truck to another.

As the mine stoppage wound up its first week, company officials said difficulties of consumers would mount when the available supply falls off in other areas.

U. M. W. officers denied there was a serious shortage. Thomas Kennedy, international vice president, blamed the companies for local distress by declaring they were shipping available coal out of the region.

Former Resident Dies In California

Mrs. Florence Wheldon Campbell Passes Away Following Operation

Word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. William C. Wheldon, of Wallace avenue, of the death of the former's sister, Mrs. Florence Wheldon Campbell, wife of J. Harry Campbell, of Anaheim, Cal. Mrs. Campbell died last night following an operation.

The Campbells were former residents of this city, and lived on Leasure avenue, before leaving for California several years ago.

Mrs. Campbell was educated in the public schools here, and was a member of the Methodist church, the Winodausis, and Order of the Eastern Star.

Besides her husband, she leaves two daughters, Elsie Jo and Sally, her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Wheldon, of Pasadena, three brothers, William C. of this city, and Stanley E. and Dr. John Wheldon, of California, and a sister, Mrs. Lawrence West, also of California.

The funeral will take place in California.

SOME PRESS COMMENT ON ATLANTIC PACT

not a menace to peace. It is not a provocation to war. It is a coldly calculated notice to all the world that if another world war can be prevented by preparedness on the part of nations that hate war, then by all standards of common sense, there will be peace."

The Detroit Free Press:

"Power to declare war is still reserved to congress, as it certainly should be, and it is conceivable to us that a future congress might haggle a long time over the question of whether some piece of aggression did indeed create a peril to peace.

"The important point is how the Russians will accept it . . . they may continue only to scold, or they may meet it by an intensifying of the cold war."

The Cleveland News stated:

"The burden of the pact will be heavy but we have not other recourse."

"The prime consideration is that the defense be adequate. Half measures are as bad as none. If the alliance is to mean anything it must have available an equipped, trained, mobile force capable of holding off aggressors until allied resources can be mobilized."

The Pittsburgh Post-Gazette:

"The historic North Atlantic security pact . . . affords the best hope of restoring to the world an essential balance of power between two dominant and antagonistic forces."

Boston Herald—"The basic political theory of the pact, is, of course, that Russia only respects strength . . . whatever the Russians may do, it should be plain that what our country is doing to balance the world situation is about the only thing it could do."

Boston Globe—"The most momentous move in international relations since the charter of the United Nations was written in the spring of 1945 . . . in substance, the pact says to the Russians and their Communist comrades, if they will not go along with the United Nations, then the United Nations will go along without them."

The Hartford Courant declared:

"Never before has the United States so far abandoned its traditional isolationism as to enter an alliance like this . . . until the U. N. is prepared to take over the job of preserving world peace, there is no other way."

counter-move to the newly published treaty.

Violent demonstrations against the agreement during the two weeks before signing are anticipated. A certain amount of sword-rattling, designed to discourage such exposed powers as Italy, Denmark and Iceland from joining is believed inevitable.

Hostilities Not Expected

Officials are convinced, however, that aside from possible deployment of troops along strategic borders, the Kremlin will make no overt move to provoke hostilities.

But the turmoil is expected to exceed that which followed development of the Marshall plan.

To discourage such demonstrations, every available outlet of information available to the government is tuned to proclaiming the proposed alliance as a peace move. The opening gun was fired by Secretary of State Acheson.

In a thirty-minute radio address, Acheson proclaimed a program of a peace offensive. He said:

"If peace and security can be achieved in the North Atlantic

R. H. Whan Dies At Youngstown, O.

Robert H. Whan, aged 83 years, 3623 Neilson avenue, Youngstown, O., died at his home at 5:10 o'clock this morning, according to a message received by local friends. Death was due to infirmities of advanced age.

Born October 6, 1865, at Wampum, he was a son of Thomas and Elizabeth Lyons Whan.

His wife, the former Miss Mary Jane Page, died in 1940.

Mr. Whan, a member of Brownlee Woods U. P. church, retired 10 years ago as a pipefitter at the Youngstown Sheet & Tube company. He moved in 1915 from Wampum to Youngstown.

Survivors include nine children: Homer Whan, North Lima, O.; Mrs. Ernest Johnson, Phoenix, Ariz.; Mrs. Donald Mason, Detroit, Mich.; Mrs. Clyde Reedy, Gulfport, Fla.; Mrs. Leo Gorby, Charles and Robert Whan, Mrs. Bertha Farmer and Mrs. Thomas Gailbreath, all of Youngstown; one brother, Dr. W. T. Whan, Youngstown; 27 grandchildren and 25 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted Thursday at 1:30 p. m. from the Hofmeister Memorial funeral home, Youngstown, where friends may call Sunday and Monday evenings. Interment will take place in Lake Park cemetery, Youngstown.

Council Approves Move On Bus Lines

Members of city council met in special session today in city hall and adopted a resolution empowering the city to join with the She-nango Valley Transportation company in a request that the PUC set aside for six months its order directing the company to reduce rates, in the amount of approximately $40,000, in view of the company's decision to provide bus service extensions here.

The mayor and council explained that, in view of proposed service to Moravia street hill, Sampson street, and the Cunningham avenue and Hamilton street district, the benefits to be derived in service would outweigh the small rate decrease ordered.

Radar Screen For
U.S. Authorized

WASHINGTON, March 19. — (INS) — The Senate on Friday passed and sent to the White House legislation authorizing creation of a "radar screen" around the United States and Canada to warn against any sudden enemy attack.

that it is impossible to achieve absolute security and there is no way an impenetrable barrier may be thrown up around the United States.

In its report, the House Armed Services committee said the term "radar fence" was "misleading and unfortunate." It declared, however, that it is "the only reasonably effective means known today whereby the effectiveness of an enemy attack may be reduced."

The Pirates rusty batting had Manager Bill Meyer slightly worried. Checking over the Pirate attack in the first five exhibition games, he found the Bucs showed a total of only 36 hits and 22 runs.

TRAILERS DO THE WORK

Door to door delivery of merchandise is commonplace today. A merchant needs a consignment of goods. He calls the dealer in another city and the next morning the merchandise is delivered.

Trailers are the reason for this modern, efficient way of doing business.

And of course in trailers, American Bantam Supercargo and Kingham trailers are built to carry the loads, safely, securely and efficiently.

If you need trailers, you owe yourself an inspection of our lines.

NEW YORK—Cuba's Omelio Agramonte, (r) throws left to the head of Detroit's Lee Oma who rolls with the punch, at Madison Square Garden last night, in a ten-round non-title fight. Oma making a comeback, lengthened his string of victories to six, by gaining a unanimous decision over the Cuban aspirant.

HERE AND THERE
IN SPORTS' LAND

ALTHOUGH it generally is believed that gloves were used for the first time when Jim Corbett defeated John L. Sullivan, thereby annexing the world's heavyweight championship, September 7, 1892, in New Orleans, the belief is wrong. At the request of a fan who presumed that gloves were used for the first time during that battle, Here & There finds that gloves were used in the first Marquis of Queensberry contest which was between John L. and Dominick F. McCafferty, of Pittsburgh, in Cincinnati, August 29, 1885.

Authority for the statement is the late Biddy Bishop, veteran fight manager and promoter, whom, in 1936, wrote that he had before him a printed program of that fight. They fought six rounds, and immediately after the sixth, Referee Billy Tait, jumped out of the ring, without announcing his decision. He went to Toledo, according to Frank Menke's Encyclopedia of Sports, which contains Bishop's account. Forty-eight hours after the fight someone in Toledo reminded Tait he had forgotten to make a decision. So Billy said "Sullivan won." This made Sullivan the first Queensberry champion, and the last bare-knuckle champ, having won that title from Paddy Ryan in 1882.

Fred Little, president of the Mercer County Fox Hunters association, advises Here & There that, the association will pay a reward of $50 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person, or persons, who stole, or shot "Peek A Boo," a fox hound. He is white with brown ears, black spots on back and hips, stands 22 inches high and wears a collar with name plate and license number 23. He disappeared from a hunt, February 19 between Clarksville and Sharon. Forty-three foxes have been killed this season in Mercer county. Mercer county fox hunts carded follows: March 20, at Greenville, meet at Christman's gas station; March 26, at Mercer, meet at Diner and March 27, at Fredonia, meet at Sportsman's club. . . . George Chip, Jr. and Tom Carey, Ursuline high coach, are in New York. They witnessed the National Invitation Cage meet in Madison Square Garden. . . . Clay Milliron who boxed in The Arena several weeks ago was "kayaked by Buddy Walls, in the fourth round at Pittsburgh, Thursday night. Walls is from McKeesport.

Lawrence County Sportsman's association, will hold a skeet and trap shoot Sunday afternoon at their Harbor farm, and on Monday night, youths, 12 to 18, will assemble at 7:30 p. m. at Ben Franklin Junior High school gymnasium for instructions in fishing, hunting and animal life. The instructions are free. . . . Harry Elwell, the blackface comedian says he knows a "gamester," who said he always won at poker, but always lost on the horses, to which a wit replied: "You can't shuffle the horses." . . . Monday night fistic cards: At Pittsburgh, Jimmy Bevis vs Rusty Payne, and, at Cleveland, Chuck Hunter vs Tommy Yarosz. Tuesday night, Billy Pozza and Jackie Thompson scrap in Ellwood City. . . . Henry Dupuy has returned from Florida where he sunbathed and fished. He reports good catches. . . . Pat Hennessy celebrated a birthday, on St. Patrick's day. . . . Hugh McCormick, Harlanburg, who fished for eels at Kennedy's dam, years and years ago, visited the city St. Patrick's Day.

Lloyd McKinnon reports receipt of word from Cambray, Ont., 85 miles northeast of Toronto, that they're "importing" ice from points farther north, in order to have sufficient ice for keeping fish froze this summer. He says that where ice was usually 36 inches thick, it was only six inches thick this winter. . . . "Do you think Harry Greo could have whipped Jack Dempsey?" is a query to Here & There. The reply is "No." A rumor was current years ago that when Dempsey trained for Billy Miske, Harry stepped half a dozen rounds with Dempsey and made Jack miss like an engine minus two spark plugs. However, it is the firm belief of Here & There that, in a 15 round fight Dempsey would have caught up to the "Windmill." . . . Bill Woods is around after a long siege of illness. . . . Carp, ringnecked pheasants, brown trout and Hungarian partridges are not native to North America. . . . Jimmie McGivern is home on a visit from Birmingham, Ala.

Trap, Skeet Shoot
To Be Held Sunday

Members of the Lawrence County Sportsman's club, and also others who desire to participate, will hold a trap and skeet shoot between 2 and 6 p. m. Sunday at the Sportsman's farm at the Harbor.

Bradley To Fight
On Ellwood Card

Bill Bradley, New Castle middleweight, who has been training with Johnny Izzy, has been matched to box Jerry Curry of Beaver Falls, Tuesday night, in Ellwood City. John Luccisano stated today.

Boosters Vs. Shenango
"Y"

Tonight East Brook will show its appreciation to Norb Borowicz, a former member of the Boosters, who suffered a broken arm in a recent floor game at Butler.

Rivals To Battle
Kuth has arranged for the Ellwood City VFW to battle the New Castle Elks in the first game at 7:30 o'clock. This is a natural rivals battle between two city-county league teams, both finishing tied for second place. The Elks seek a little revenge for a recent upset at Ellwood.

In the second game or night-cap, Kuth has secured the strong colored Shenango Y with a 20 and 36 and 8 record for the year.

Once again the good people of East Brook will turn out to help put the benefit over with a bang. The fans will see two crackerjack games tonight.

Lee Oma Wins
Garden Bout

NEW YORK, March 19—(INS)—Lee Oma, the reformed Detroit playboy, was back in the heavy-weight picture today.

The known prince of slug won a unanimous decision over Omelio Agramonte, hard-hitting Cuban, in the feature 10-round bout at Madison Square Garden last night.

Six Straight Wins
Oma, who once knocked out Gus Lesnevich, now boasts six straight victories in his latest comeback try. He was a 1 to 3 favorite.

Agramonte had trouble keeping his footing and slipped to the canvas several times. He dropped Oma for a nine count in the opening round and later raised bruises under both of the Detroit's eyes, but Oma showed a remarkable ability to rally throughout.

The crowd numbered only 4,000.

MAL WHITFIELD
STARS IN MEET

CLEVELAND, March 19—(INS)—Some 7,000 track enthusiasts knew full well today why lanky Mal Whitfield topped honors in the 400-meter race at London last summer.

The hungry-looking Ohio State sprinter twice thrilled the crowd at the ninth annual Knights of Columbus track carnival in Cleveland last night.

Whitfield defeated George Guida, ex-Villanova speedster, in the 600-yard run and later in the evening ran a brilliant anchor leg in winning the one-mile relay for the Ohio cindermen.

COALTOWN FAVORITE
IN FLORIDA RACE

HALLANDALE, Fla., March 19—(INS)—The Calumet farm entry of Coaltown was an overwhelming odds-on favorite today in the $20,000 Gulfstream Park handicap.

The four-year-old Warren Wright speedster was asked to carry top weight of 128 pounds in the 1 1/4 mile event.

PITTSBURGH, March 19.—Most of the veterans are stringing along with the Homestead Steelers tonight in their Class A WPIAL final round game with Aliquippa at the Pitt stadium pavilion.

This is a sentimental attitude backed by a natural caution and a very human desire to appear knowing. The people who face facts figure Aliquippa will be the one to represent District 7 when the PIAA basketball tourney opens in Philadelphia.

Davies' Teams Tough

The main recommendation which Homestead has—and it's a powerful one at that—is 47-year-old Chick Davies. He's the guy who quit Duquesne University last year to coach Homestead.

The advocates of a Steeler victory say you can't bet against Davies because he is tough. And they smugly add that the Steelers have class and experience which will enable them always to have just enough for a victory.

If this is true, then Homestead could teach the army a few things about camouflage.

Steelers Unimpressive

In three elimination games at the stadium the Steelers have been disappointingly unimpressive. Rather blunt, perhaps, but that's it. Against admittedly inferior opposition a fourth quarter spurt was necessary each game to gain the final round.

They are big, very rough and appear to violate the rules on blocking without any recognition from the officials. Yet they do win even though they lack a really outstanding player.

Six-foot, three-inch John Matta, Ray Petruskas and Don McClane are the kids who have carried Homestead through 24 contests with only one defeat. Homestead will carry a 15-game winning streak into the finale.

Compare that with Aliquippa which is unbeaten in 24 tilts. The Quips breezed through two elimination games, then played the part of champions to perfection Tuesday night in beating a persistent Rankin team, 47-34.

Zernich Is Best

Aliquippa pumped in 13 points in the last three minutes and held Rankin to one field goal. They aren't exactly the type of club to win the state championship, but they rate every edge over Homestead.

In skinny, baby-faced Mickey Zernich, the Quips have the best player in the eliminations. He is one of the rare kind who drives in and shoots from up close with a variety of shots.

They also have Jimmy Frank who always seems to have one two-pointer ready when the opposition gets close, while Joe Richards is one of those hot and cold guys who can break your heart with one-handed push shots when he's right.

Youth vs Age

The tall Quips use their height effectively to control the ball which is something Homestead hasn't mastered.

Young Sam Milanovich, the former Pitt star who took over as head man this year, hasn't avoided any toughies in his schedule. He lets his boys shoot a lot and depends on the tall ones, led by Clarence Shaw, to tap in the rebounds.

So it's youth versus wise age on the coaches' line. And Homestead's experience coupled with balance against Aliquippa's individual brilliance on the playing floor.

Make mine youth.

Pozza Rapidly Rounding Into Condition For His Bout With Thompson

Billy Pozza, Ellwood City heavyweight, is rapidly rounding into tiptop condition for his fight with Detroit's Jackie Thompson next Tuesday night in the Ellwood City high school gymnasium. Thursday night Billy trained in the Jefferson A. C. gym here to give fans a chance to note his condition.

Chuck Higgins of Campbell, who decided Alex Arella in Pittsburgh Thursday night, will box Jimmy Guy, another Detroit, at 160.

Johnny Izzy, New Castle, is training with Bill Bradley for his six-round fight with Duke Peaks, who was kayved by Les Leasure, drew with Russ Baxter and who beat Roy Crews.

Two other fights, both four rounds, will be staged. The boxing show is said by the Luccisano brothers, John and Ray, to be sponsored by the Ellwood City Lions club.

PHILLIPS OILERS
BIDDING FOR TITLE

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 19—(INS)—The Phillips Oilers make their bid tonight for their seventh straight national AAU basketball title when they meet the Oakland Bittners at Oklahoma City.

The Oilers won handily last night in the semifinals with a 77 to 45 victory over the Seattle, Wash., Alpine Dairy.

The California Five, however, was given a tough fight by the Peoria, Ill., Caterpillar Diesels before emerging with a 62-to-59 triumph.

ART HOUTTEMAN

LAKELAND, Fla., March 19—(INS)—Recuperating Art Houtteman, hardluck kid of the Detroit Tigers, got a glimmer today of what the breaks are like.

Dr. Edgar Watson, who has been treating the 21-year-old pitcher since he fractured his skull in an auto accident last week, said last night that Houtteman is "out of danger and definitely on the road to recovery."

Houtteman is at Morrell hospital at Lakeland, where physicians and nurses said they had never seen anything like "the spirit" with which the young player fought his way from what was believed his death bed.

County League
Meets Thursday

Details For Coming Diamond Season To Be Ironed Out, Officers Elected

Lawrence County Baseball league officials and team representatives will hold an organization meeting at the Sporting Goods store Thursday, March 24.

This will be the second meeting of the league in preparation for the renewal of diamond hostilities. President Alec Samuels has asked that a representative of all ten teams that plan to participate this summer be present. Other teams interested in joining the fast county league should also plan to be on hand.

Have Money Ready

Each team has been requested to have at least $50 of its $200 franchise fee ready to turn in at the meeting.

Other important matters to be discussed at this hot stove conference include election of officers, relations between the league and the umpires association, and selecting a league commissioner.

Secretary Jim Martin said today that the meeting will be held at 8 o'clock and strict promptness will be observed.

Kirk And Kirby
Tied For Lead

AUGUSTA, Ga., March 19—(INS)—Amateurs Peggy Kirk of Findlay, O., and Dorothy Kirby of Atlanta held a one-stroke lead today at the end of the second round of the women's titleholders golf tournament at Augusta.

The two were deadlocked at 151 after carding identical 75's on the second 18 yesterday.

Dot Kirby, first-day leader from Long Beach, Cal., and pro Louise Suggs of Atlanta followed in the runner-up position with 152's as the California amateur slipped to a 79 from her earlier 73 and Miss Suggs fired a 72.

Babe Didrikson Zaharias of Denver, who paced the field with Miss Kieley at the end of the first round, posted an 81 on the second 18 and ended in a tie with defending champion Patty Berg of Minneapolis at 154.

The Aggies edged past Wyoming, 40 to 39, on center Jack Shelton's field goal in the last three seconds of play last night in the municipal auditorium before a record crowd of more than 10,000.

OKLAHOMA-OREGON
TO CLASH TONIGHT

KANSAS CITY, March 19—(INS)—Oklahoma A & M and Oregon State clash tonight at Kansas City for the right to represent the West in the NCAA basketball championships at Seattle.

The Aggies edged past Wyoming, 40 to 39, on center Jack Shelton's field goal in the last three seconds of play last night in the municipal auditorium before a record crowd of more than 10,000.

Roller-Hockey
Match Sunday

New Castle Yellow Jackets
Will Clash With Warren,
Ohio Pros At 4 O'Clock

Sunday afternoon at the Arena on Grove street the New Castle Yellow Jackets roller-hockey team has arranged for a match with the strong Warren, O. Pros. The contest starts at 4 o'clock.

For quite some time the Warren team has been seeking a game with Lee Stoops and his rambunctious Jackets and their plea will be answered Sunday.

Bridgeville Next

This is not a league game, but will serve to keep the Yellow Jackets in trim for their conference match at Bridgeville on Thursday, March 24.

New Castle is leading the western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio roller-hockey conference, having dropped only one game (this one under protest to Glassport) and have tied one with Flamingo.

If you fans have never seen a roller-hockey game, Sunday would be a good time to see one. They are exciting from start to finish. There is plenty of rough body checking and stick swinging.

Business Manager Don Wilson is making arrangements to take care of a large crowd tomorrow. The admission is 50 cents per person.

Overtime Win
Highlights "Y"
Junior Tourney

Last year's runnerup, Hoover's Sno-Top, pulled a sensational double overtime win out of the fire last night in the feature game of the junior gold medal tournament at the Y.

Gus Little Five, Union Civics and Friendly's also advanced in the tourney standing with easy wins. Hoover trailed 14-4 at the quarter, 26-20 at the half and 41-34 at the three-quarter mark. Don Black, last year's most valuable player, entered the contest in the third canto and the eventual winners began to look more and more like a championship team.

Black added three fielders and the game was tied up at 48-48 when the gun went off ending the battle. Each team scored four markers in the first overtime and a second was necessary.

The crowd, which had been on edge for most of the game, now showed signs of nervousness as tension mounted. The Sno-Tops, however, displayed real determination by scoring nine points in the last overtime, and holding their opponents to two.

Nevotte High

Higgins' 19 topped the winners in point-making and Ed Nevotte took individual honors for the evening by meshing 27 and playing a real classy brand of basketball.

Sansone led the Gus Little Five to a 34 to 25 win over East Brook Brookers. The star forward pocketed 10 points. Don Smith was best in the losers' lineup with nine.

Union Civics took a convincing win from the Mt. Jackson Gears 40 to 28. Travers and Peterson split 23 for the Civics and Pat Kerr had 14 for the Gears.

Friendly's emerged as a real power in championship consideration with a 48 to 27 triumph over Bessemer Merchants. Rangy Phil Conti hooped in 20 markers for the Friendly quint and Andrews tossed in 12 more. For the Bessemer five Ray Gennaro threw in 16.

Tonight's Schedule

Four more games are on the card tonight, including one third round contest.

The defending champion Eagles meet the Unionites at 6:30. Leverage's tangle with the Regent Youngsters at 7:30. In the feature contest, Gus Little Five challenges the high flying Friendly aggregation. This game is billed for 8:30. In the final duel, A&M Supermarket takes on the strong Bessemer Bucks.

Harrison Dillard Close To Breaking Record

CLEVELAND, O.—Harrison Dillard, U. S. Olympic star, missed the world's indoor hurdle record by one-tenth second in the Cleveland K. of C. track meet in The Arena last night. Dillard paced the field with a time of 5.5 seconds. The field, left to right—Edward Dugger, Dayton A. C.; Dillard unattached; Paige Christiansen, Michigan State college.

Loyola Of Chicago
Favored Over Dons

By JOHN BARRINGTON

(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, March 19.—Loyola of Chicago is a slight favorite over the San Francisco Dons in the final of the national invitation basketball tournament at Madison Square Garden tonight.

Possibly the reason for installing the Chicago ramblers as the choice in this clash of two Cincinnati teams is the fact that they were the only favorite to win earlier in the week.

Another reason may be that Jack Kerris, Loyola's big man, is figured to be more consistent than Don Lofgran, the high scorer of the Dons. Kerris is the tourney's high scorer to date with 64 points. Lofgran has tallied 55.

Regardless of either reason, San Francisco's coach, Pete Newell, was tickled pink that his team is not the favorite. No mentor in this dark horse derby relishes that tag.

Kerris and Lofgran

The duel between Kerris and Lofgran will decide not only the winner of the post-season classic, but also which one is entitled to the outstanding player trophy.

San Francisco has a great pair under the boards in Lofgran and Joe McNamee and a great playmaker in Rene Herreras, its watch charm guard.

The final will be a battle of brains as well as brawn and speed. As Joe Lapchick, the well-known pro coach, says, tonight's rivals may not be the best that ever played in the tourney, but they are two of the smartest.

In earlier games both set up offensive and defensive patterns that stopped their rivals from playing their usual type of basketball.

SWIMMERS COMPETE
AT PITTSBURGH

PITTSBURGH, March 19—(INS)—Top-flight swimmers from Ohio and Pennsylvania meet in the 31st running of the interscholastic swimming championships in Pittsburgh today.

CLASH AT GIRARD

Crystals, a basketball team sponsored by John Favorite and Joe Glorioso, will oppose Youngstown City college Monday night at Girard in the first round of a tri-county tournament.

HIGH TRACKERS
AT PITTSBURGH

PITTSBURGH, March 19—(INS)—Three hundred and fourteen entries from 19 high schools were all set today to compete in the annual tri-state track coaches indoor championship trials at Schoonmaker hall in South Park.

The schools include Greensburg, New Castle, Canonburg, Washington, Connellsville, Huntington, W. Va., East Palestine, O., McKeesport, Brownsville, Scottdale, Ambridge, Derry Township, McKees Rocks, Wilkensburg, Brentwood, Mt. Lebanon, Bradnock and Peabody and Central Catholic of Pittsburgh. The finals are scheduled for March 26.

Outdoors Lessons To Be Given Monday

Instructions in bait fishing, plug casting, fly casting, fly tying, first aid, boating and camping, rifle and shotgun, and bird and animal study will be given free to youth, 12 to 18 years old, by capable instructors at Ben Franklin junior high school gymnasium at 7:30 p. m. Monday.

The instructors are members of the various sportsman's clubs of Lawrence county, and each is skilled in the subject he teaches.
